JURY HEARS WOMAN'S PLEA FOR LIFE

Mrs. Carman Tells of Suspicions on Witness Stand

Mother Aids Daughter in Fight for Freedom

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—To substantiate its claim that a man and not a woman killed Mrs. Bailey, the defense introduced as a witness Charles Adams, a colored man, who testified that he was passing the Carman house on the night of the murder, heard a report which he thought was a firecracker, looked into the yard and saw a man running away.

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Cooklin Carman, on trial as the slayer of Mrs. Louis E. Bailey, smilingly stepped into the witness stand today for the ordeal of cross-examination by the district attorney. She appeared cheerful and refreshed and said she was ready to reply to all questions. District Attorney Smith might ask her, no matter what they were.

She faced a crowded courtroom, among the 200 or more spectators who occupied every available bit of space were long-time friends and neighbors, whose faces were wreathed with hopeful smiles. Ranged directly opposite her chair, within the enclosure and less than a dozen steps away, were the mother, the daughter and the husband of the woman whose life the state asserts she took. They followed with intense eagerness every word of her testimony.

KISSES HER MOTHER. Just before the defendant took the chair she crossed over to her mother, Mrs. Cooklin, sitting at the counsel table, leaned over and kissed her.

Mrs. Carman, began the district attorney, "you said you were suspicious of your husband. When did you get suspicious?"

"About a year ago."

"What caused her suspicion she could not say. A woman did not cause it—just rumors."

"Were the rumors about a woman?"

"No, just someone asking about his girls."

She could not recall who had told her this. At Smith's bidding she named many men, friends of Dr. Carman, but could not name one of them as having said, "how are all your girls?"

"Somebody was asking him that question all the time," she said. "They were jesting. I thought at first, but after a while I thought maybe there might be some truth in what they said."

Train Crushes State Official to Death

REDDING, Oct. 23.—Caught between two sections of a broken railroad track, Frank McRea of Sisson, Cal., superintendent of the State fish distributing car, was crushed to death at Gibson today, shortly after midnight.

The train pulled a coupling, climbing a hill, and the jar of the brakes, automatically set when the air line parted, broke McRea. While the two halves of the train were at a standstill, he got out to see what was the matter. The forward half of the train backed up as he was crushed between the bumpers.

POLICE END HUNT FOR THIEVES

Shooting and Cutting Affray Leads to Arrest of Woman

Following a shooting and cutting scrape among several negroes in West Oakland early this morning, the police arrested two men and two women and in so doing obtained information which has cleared up the mystery as to a number of robberies during the summer and last winter believed to have been committed by a negro woman. The police allege that the "negro woman" was Clarence Lockett, arrested at 1761 Seventh street, who is alleged to have disguised herself in female garments to commit her thefts.

While garbed as a woman Lockett is alleged to have accosted men in the street and while talking to them to have stolen their watches, a purse or money and to have made his escape. He was a swift runner and has been several times chased by the police, but always managed to make his escape. At one time he led Inspector Tom Woods a chase over a mile over back fences and through alleyways before he finally eluded pursuit.

The shooting and stabbing affray occurred at 816 Pine street early this morning. Five shots were heard in the neighborhood and Corporal Thornbury rushed to the scene. He found Lockett lying in the street in front of 816 Pine street suffering from a gunshot wound in the hip and two in the leg. Lockett was taken to the receiving hospital.

Later investigation by Inspectors McSorley and Wood and Patrolman Holmberg resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Emma Ross at the same address, and of Julius Render, also at 816 Pine street. Render was suffering from half a dozen flesh wounds inflicted with a razor.

It is alleged that Lockett came to the Pine street house and attacked Render with a razor. Mrs. Ross is said to have obtained a rifle with which she drove Lockett from the house and took five shots at him in the street. Mrs. Ross and Lockett are to be charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Later this morning Special Police-man John Luttrell arrested Lucy Lee at Eighth and Jefferson streets. The Lee woman is alleged to have accosted Otto Schaefer of Eighth and Howard streets, San Francisco, and to have picked his pocket of $29.50 in an alley in Oakland. When questioned by the police she admitted that she and Lockett had worked this plan together for many months, Lockett being disguised as a woman at the time. The negro woman will be charged with larceny and vagrancy.

From the jewel case of a queen to a Broadway pawnshop is a far call, yet here in a small shop, just off Broadway, today were discovered by Miss Lena Vargas the jewels of the Empress Carlotta, a gift from her brother-in-law, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria.

Just how the jewels came here no one knows. Their advent is shrouded in mystery.

A few days ago a man brought them, swathed in tissue papers in a small cardboard box. He needed money, he said, and had some jewels to dispose of. Somewhat unwillingly he told part of his story. He was a refugee from Mexico, the jewels were his, he could vouch for their authenticity—but he would say no more.

Experts were called. The bracelet, earrings and a brooch, done in diamonds, red enamel and gold, were pronounced perfect examples of the jeweler's art.

IMPERIAL MARK. But in a corner was something the expert did not understand and that demanded an explanation. It was a tiny mark, something like the sterling sign on silver, only a little smaller. The man hesitated, as if unwilling to answer further questions. Then he asked for a magnifying glass more powerful than his. And through it the features of the Austrian Emperor were plainly discernible.

The jewels were given to Carlotta just before her marriage to Grand Duke Maximilian, and had accompanied her to Mexico.

SUITOR BY MAIL OF PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER IN JAIL

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—A man giving his name as David A. Wilson was held under arrest by Federal authorities here today on a charge of having written to Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, the only unmarried daughter of President Wilson, proposing marriage. He will be examined as to his sanity. Wilson admitted having written the letter, but refused to answer any questions concerning it. His home was said to be in Curryville, Mo.

DOZEN SHIPS ARE SUNK BY CRUISER

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A dispatch from Tenerife, Canary Islands, to the Daily Mail, under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to the Daily Mail's Tenerife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German steamer Creole, which arrived there with the crews of the British steamers Strathmore, Maple Branch, Highland Hope, Indrani, Rio Iguaçu, Parn, Niceto, Maria de Larrinaga, Corvantes, Cornish City, Pruth, Condor and Lynrovan, all of which were sunk by the Karlsruhe.

The Creole was accompanied into port by the German steamers Patagonia, Rio Negro and Asuncion.

A later message states that more than 400 members of the crews are prisoners. The ships were mostly engaged in the South American trade.

Bank Robbers Being Rounded Up by Police

PLAINE, Wash., Oct. 23.—American and Canadian peace officers resumed today the pursuit of the three bank robbers who escaped yesterday after a battle with a posse three miles north of the international line, in which one bandit was killed and one wounded and one member of the posse, Clifford Adams, a Canadian immigration inspector, also lost his life. The officers believe they have cut off the bandits' retreat, and a closing in will result in their capture. The men, who appear to be Russians, robbed the First National Bank of Sedro-Woolley, Wash., of $20,000 last Saturday night, killing a boy and wounding two men as they fled from the bank. More than $500 of the stolen money was recovered when the two bandits fell before the officers' fire yesterday.

FRENCH FLEET ENTERS TERRIFIC BATTLE RAGING ON COAST OF BELGIUM

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23, 1:50 p. m.—The only fact that Englishmen are able to point to today as a basis for their belief that the climax has about been reached in the sea, land and air battle across the channel, is that the armies can not indefinitely face the decimation of their ranks which has marked this latest phase of the great campaign.

For nearly a week now this tri-partite combat has raged with unabated fury between forces up to the present time so equal in strength that the fronts have swayed back and forth without either being able to register a decisive victory. That the slaughter in these efforts and counter-efforts to break through the opposing lines transcends anything heretofore seen in this campaign is admitted on both sides.

Nevertheless neither the terrible effect of the long range British naval guns over flat lands offering no natural defensive positions, although vouched for both officially and unofficially, nor the onslaughts of the allied forces on land has yet succeeded in stemming the "hacking through" tactics of the Germans.

English news dispatches make sweeping claims of annihilating successes, German advices assert continued progress and Russian telegrams report great victories, but well-defined evidence to support these various contentions is lacking, and the real facts appear that in neither the eastern nor the western arenas of the war has the tide yet turned decisively.

FRESH GERMAN TROOPS AT THE FRONT.

A dispatch from Paris to Reuter's Telegram Company says that, according to trustworthy accounts received at the French capital this afternoon, fresh troops brought by the Germans have enabled them to deliver attacks with increased vigor on the French right wing, where the battle has been of a ding-dong character, with alternate gains and losses.

Vessels from the French navy, having crept around the coast, were today standing by the British monitors which are hurling shells landward between Ostend and Nieuport on the Belgian coast in continuation of the fierce battle between Germany and the allies for the possession of the North Sea and Channel ports.

For the first time since the war began air craft and warships are adding simultaneously in the movements of land forces, thus the struggle is being waged in the air, on the sea and on land at the same time.

The Germans are hurrying forward fresh troops and heavy guns, the latter to make reply to damaging fire from the ships, and although they have been pushed back at certain points, they appear to be holding their line between the sea and LaBasse without, however, making noteworthy progress.

Oakland Selected for Grangers' Convention

Word was received today that Oakland was selected by the California State Grange, now in convention at Sacramento, as the convention city for 1915. The delegates unanimously endorsed the California Development Association's plan of bringing the expatriated Belgians to California. The convention at the capital will close tonight with a banquet.

TODAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

The Germans and the allies continue their desperate game of give and take in West Flanders and northeastern France today, neither side claiming a decisive advantage.

French warships are said to have joined the British naval forces forming the extreme left of the allies, and fresh German reinforcements are reported constantly coming up. Not since the opening of hostilities have the warring forces appeared to have been so evenly matched.

The allied war craft in the straits of Dover are shelling the German troops have given a new impetus to the German attack on the French right wing.

Russian advices continue to insist that the German advance on Warsaw has been turned into a retreat. It is admitted, however, that Germans and Austrians still hold the Vistula south of the city of the Prava river. Berlin and Vienna report Austrian successes south of Przemyśl.

The fast German cruiser Karlsruhe has become a rival of the German cruiser Linden as a destroyer of the enemy's merchant vessels. Word comes from the Canary Islands that the Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

A dispatch from Pekings says that a German torpedo boat destroyer, which escaped from Kiao Chow was captured by warships of the allies.

The Vorwarts, the Socialist organ of Berlin, states that on investigation it has found no basis of truth in the allegations of cruelties inflicted on German soldiers and civilians by the allied troops.

panied her to Mexico. We all know the sequel; the tragic death of Maximilian after his brief stormy reign as emperor; the flight of Carlotta after terrible hardships and her escape to Europe.

The memory of the horrors was more than she could bear, her brain gave way beneath the strain and she is now hopelessly insane, confined in an asylum in Belgium, or was before the commencement of the war. Such was the story the man with the jewels told.

How the gems came into his possession none can explain.

At all events the jewels are here, waiting in a dinky pawnshop safe for some buyer of rare and precious things. And if they could only talk to us "what tales they could unfold."

Says Antwerp Forts Are Without Guards

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23, 10:50 a. m.—A dispatch from Rotterdam to the Star says:

"The advancement of the German troops westward from Antwerp has left only a few hundred men in the town. The last batch left yesterday morning, and most of the great forts are now without guards. The German wounded from the front are being quartered at the Spa."

A traveler who has just left the city says that some one restored the bell belonging to the town hall and the Germans did not bother to take it down. The whole Belgian coast is now deserted by the population, the military being in sole possession.

"At Antwerp more than 100 Belgian locomotives have been collected."

The correspondent hazards a guess that they are for use in a retreat.

Teutons Harbor French After Homes Fade

Among them were many women and children. All were sent to Rastatt, near Karlsruhe, where they were given shelter in the arsenal.

about the hills for two days before he was found. His condition is serious.

LONG JOURNEYS.

In the meantime Deputy Sheriff Brackett was dispatched to Point Arena to bring back the prisoner. Two hours after he had left Probation Officer Compton received a message from Justice of the Peace H. B. Scott to the effect that he had investigated the reported burglary and found that the complainant had imagined the entire incident.

But young Look had been arrested by deputies from Ukiah and taken to that city. At the time of his arrest he was attending the funeral of his grandfather. It would be easier to return to Point Arena via Oakland and Sausalito than across country from Ukiah, he came here.

The trip cost him the small amount of money that he had saved up in order to make restitution for jewelry he had taken and for which crime he was placed on probation.

It had been understood that upon restitution he would be restored to his legal rights. Owing to the loss of the money he will not be able to make restitution for some time and will have to remain on probation for several months longer.

Alameda county will have to pay the costs of the Mendocino county deputy trip from Ukiah to Point Arena and the trip expenses of Deputy Sheriff Brackett from Oakland and return. The warrant for Look's arrest was withdrawn, but too late.

General Von Moltke Is Reported Dying

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—That Lieutenant-General Count Helmuth von Moltke, chief of the German general staff, is dying, the Exchange Telegraph Amsterdam correspondent says in a private letter received in Amsterdam from Berlin.

"Everything," the correspondent adds, "is being done to keep the news secret. General von Moltke is suffering from an affection of the liver."

The above is the second report given out recently concerning von Moltke. The first rumor was that he was dead. Neither has been confirmed.

and their total tonnage is about 53,000 tons.

The cruiser Karlsruhe, a ship of a little less than 5000 tons, has in this war a career as eventful as that of her smaller sister ship, the Emden, in the Indian ocean.

The Karlsruhe first came into notice at the outbreak of the war, when she appeared in the vicinity of Sandy Hook apparently in wait for British merchantmen leaving New York. For a few days British shipping hugged the pier and then came home, that the Karlsruhe had been driven away by the approach of several British cruisers. August 3 the Karlsruhe appeared in the harbor of San Juan, Porto Rico, where she coaled and again took to the sea. Soon after it was learned that the Karlsruhe had been in a sensational running fight at sea with the British cruisers Suffolk and Bristol. Since then the Karlsruhe has appeared in several West Indian ports for coal after preying in various southern seas on British commerce.

An official statement, given out in Berlin on October 3, said she had sunk seven British steamers in the Atlantic.

The Karlsruhe is a comparatively new ship, having gone into commission early in 1913.

A dispatch from Peking to the Exchange Telegraph Company reports that the allies' warships have captured a German destroyer which escaped from Kiao-Chow bay.

Survivors of the British cruiser Hawke, which was recently sunk by a German submarine, have arrived in Scotland and report, according to the Morning Post, that two German submarines were sunk in the North Sea by the British destroyer conveying the rafts containing the men saved from the Hawke. There is no confirmation of this story.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The American steamer Sun, belonging to the Sun Oil Company of Philadelphia, which left port October 8 for Amsterdam, arrived today at Falmouth.

The fact that the Sun's destination was Amsterdam and that she has arrived at Falmouth may mean that she has been diverted from her course by the British naval authorities.

said. "They would say to me, the doctor is some devil."

CURIOUS, TOO.

"Did you have an inclination to hear what the doctor had to say to his woman patients?"

"In a way, yes. Some of his patients."

"Did you ask where he was when he was out all night?"

"Yes, and he told me."

"Did you believe him?"

"Yes, sometimes."

"Did your suspicions increase with time?"

"They increased right up to the time of the murder. They have all been dispelled now."

"How long have you been in that frame of mind?"

"Ever since the terrible tragedy. What I heard, or rather what I did not hear over the telephone instrument reassured me."

Mrs. Carman sought to evade a direct answer to the district attorney's question as to whether she thought that her husband was truthful. Finally, she said, "No."

She explained she had no real reason to doubt him, however. She was suspicious at first of the woman who called frequently at his office, finally she was suspicious of nearly all of his women callers.

"I got tired of hearing things," she said.

And the fact that a woman would come to this office after having been enough to make you suspicious? Were you suspicious of your husband or the women?" asked Smith.

"Both," said Mrs. Carman firmly.

BOUGHT FOR RIVAL.

Some women, Mrs. Carman said, were more attractive to her husband than she was, she had thought. She did not know if there were more than one, but she wanted to find out.

"I had no particular woman in mind," she said.

Mr. Smith asked if she thought Mrs. Varance, the middle-aged nurse, whose face she slapped, was more attractive than she. Mrs. Carman smiled, and answered "No."

Under the rapid volley of the district attorney's pitiless questions Mrs. Carman's color rose and fell. She bit her lips; she clenched her gloved hands. She appeared to be about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her.

She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance. She said she saw Dr. Carman give the nurse $15 and saw her kiss him afterwards. It was the passing of the money and not the kiss that disturbed her, she said.

"You did not object to another woman kissing your husband in gratitude?"

"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Carman. "How long after the passing of of what the coffee trade think of the harmfulness of the coffee-drug caffeine, is shown in their efforts to get rid of it—to get a coffee that doesn't contain caffeine!

When they do succeed in getting rid of some of the caffeine drug-content, the result is a weak, "clover-tea" decoction that few appreciate.

the money was the kiss administered?"

"A few minutes. They were sitting down alongside each other at the time."

DIDN'T HEAR SHOT.

Mrs. Carman said she did not rap on the window when the kiss was given, but waited until Mrs. Varance started to leave the office.

"You went pretty fast around the lawn to get to the door before Mrs. Varance, did you not?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Carman indicated that she slipped Mrs. Varance with the back of her hand.

"Now, as to the night of the shooting," said Smith. "Did you hear a shot?"

"No, I heard some commotion."

"What?" shouted the district attorney.

"Well, I don't know whether I heard a shot or not. I heard a noise."

"And your curiosity was aroused?"

"Surely. It was an unusual sound."

She thought it had come from the rear of the house, and it took her about a minute to get downstairs. She said: As she reached the head of the stairs she saw two women going down the hall. But she made no effort to find out who they were. After she went down stairs she walked into the waiting room and leaned against the mantelpiece for a moment. She did not see anyone down stairs and went directly upstairs again, after having stood by the mantle for two minutes, perhaps.

Mrs. Carman's cross-examination ended and her re-direct examination was then begun.

CONCERNING DICTAPHONE.

Before she was excused Mrs. Carman described in detail how she tore out the telephonic instrument and its wires between her room and the doctor's office and hid the wires, batteries, sound gatherer and receiver in the garret under the floor.

"Mrs. Carman," said the district attorney, "if your suspicions were dispelled by what you heard over the instrument why did you buy the thing on June 23, when your lease on it had two more months to run?"

To this Mrs. Carman would give no direct answer.

Mrs. Carman said she learned the identity of the victim late Tuesday night. She said she felt sorry for the family of Mrs. Bailey, but that she had not expressed her sympathy to them because "she did not feel at liberty to do so."

Mrs. Carman's ten-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, was the next witness. In a childish treble she gave her version of that had happened in the Carman household the night of the murder. After dinner she said, she had gone out and played on the lawn.

MOTHER IN HOUSE.

"Mother went upstairs," she continued. "My aunt and my grandmother were on the porch. Later I went into the parlor and started to practice on the piano. My mother told me to stop. Then I went into the dining room, walked through the hall and sat in a chair in the dining room. Presently I heard glass break and a shot. I met my aunt on the stairs. I went to mother's room."

"My mother was there."

"I ran back into the hall. I saw my mother put on her slippers and kimono and I followed her down stairs. Then I went up again. When she came up in a minute I went into her room with her."

On cross examination District Attorney Smith asked only one question. "Elizabeth, you are very fond of your mother, are you not?"

"Yes," she replied.

"That's all," said the prosecutor.

Just as Mrs. Sarah A. Conklin, Mrs. Carman's mother, 72 years old, took the stand, the defendant burst into tears. She buried her face in her handkerchief, shaking with sobs. Mrs. Conklin's testimony corroborated that given by Mrs. Carman and Elizabeth. Similar corroborative testimony was

The Reliable Remedy For Constipation

Free bowel movement is essential to health. In the treatment of most of the doctors usually begin treatment by cleansing the intestinal tract. To prevent disease the alimentary canal should be evacuated every day. Warner's Safe Pills are the right remedy for constipation because they gradually restore the natural functions without gripping or leaving the bowels irritated. Mrs. C. Madsen of Chicago, Ill., says: "Warner's Safe Pills are the best I have ever used, especially as they don't leave any sick feeling, like everything else I have ever used. given by Mrs. Carman's sister, Mrs. Ida Powell.

But as the trial progressed today Mrs. Sarah Colkin, Mrs. Ida Powell, Elizabeth Carman, mother, sister, daughter—one by one—confirmed Mrs. Carman's story that she was in bed when the shot was fired; that she donned kimono and slippers, went downstairs into the waiting room, leaned for a minute or two against the mantelpiece and then returned to her room.

Mrs. Powell said she let two women, who had been in the doctor's waiting room, out of the front door. The night latch snapped, shutting her out, and she went around the side of the house and entered the waiting room door. She did not see Farrell, she said, although she was on the front steps less than a minute after she heard the report of a revolver. Mrs. Powell said it was she who told Mrs. Carman what had happened, thereby corroborating the defendant.

GOLDER CALLED AGAIN.

When Mrs. Powell was excused George Golder, who had testified for the state, was called by the defense. His testimony was unchanged. On cross examination Golder admitted he had told the grand jury that a colored girl followed a woman into the office directly after the shooting. He also testified that he had said the woman and the colored girl left the room, together through the waiting room door.

Dr. Edwin Carman, husband of the defendant, corroborated the testimony of other members of the house as to the night of the murder. He said there were several persons, among them Mrs. Bailey, whom he did not know at that time, sitting in the waiting room.

"After I had talked to Mrs. Bailey," the witness continued, "she prepared to go home, then the glass in the window was broken and a revolver fired through it. I dropped behind the operating table. Mrs. Bailey said, 'I'm shot.' I told her she was all right and then I saw blood. I grabbed her and pulled her back of the chair out of range of more bullets. Then she died."

Dr. Carman said Celia was in his office once that night, but that Mrs. Carman was not.

STRANGE MAN CALLED.

Dr. Carman said he looked at the window as he grabbed Mrs. Bailey, but saw nothing. He was sure the door between the pantry and the office was locked.

On cross examination he denied that he had more women patients than men.

Dr. Carman denied he told the grand jury he had his hand on Mrs. Bailey's shoulder.

Dr. Carman was asked about the strange man in his office, the man who said that he was coming back but did not do so.

"What did this man who came into your office do?" Smith asked.

"He shook hands with me and said ferred heavily on land. The Germans claim to have put a British torpedo boat out of action.

BRITISH MORE PROMINENT IN FIGHTING

Albert, King of the Belgians, who since his retirement from Ostend, has been reported at various points in Northern France, appears to be actually at the scene of fighting. This information is on the authority of the British admiralty. Dispatches say that the Queen is also with the Belgian army, but this must be taken as a rumor, much the same as the report that General Von Moltke, chief of the German general staff, is seriously ill, or the statement that Emperor William again has moved his headquarters.

The report that General Moltke's son has been killed also is revived, as it will be remembered that only recently it was rumored that General von Moltke had been removed as chief of the general staff.

REPORT GERMAN LINE CUT.

That the German line south of Ostend has been cut and that a retreat has set in, figures among a number of other unconfirmed news reports this morning. On the other hand, another correspondent of the Times says the Germans have not left Bruges, and that they are still in force in the neighborhood of Ostend. Although the withdrawal of troops had been toward Bruges, this correspondent adds is only a precautionary measure.

A message from Havre says the Belgians have crossed the right bank of the River Yser, and this is the first information that they were forced to give ground there during the recent fighting. All official statements given out by the allies have insisted that they were valiantly resisting the German assaults. The use of the word "regained," however, would seem to indicate that the Germans at times have made advances. The dikes of this waterway have now been cut, making the situation for the Germans more difficult.

The German press is branding the round-up of alien enemies in the British Isles as fanatical persecution.

BRITISH MORE PROMINENT.

LONDON, Oct. 22, 11:20 a. m.—The official information bureau has given out another account of an eyewitness of recent operations. This recital is dated October 17 and explains that with the arrival of reinforcements the British have been able to play a more prominent part, assisting in the gradual extension to the northward, which has thrown their troops to the Franco-Belgian border. "Up till recently," says this statement, "the extension northward had been carried out by the French alone."

The narrative goes on to explain that there have been actions in the two western theaters of the war from Neuport south and along the Aisne and continues:

"In both the theaters the results attained, without being in any way decisive, have been entirely satisfactory and in furtherance of the general scheme which the allied armies are carrying out in cooperation."

"In the southern of the two spheres, in the Aisne, our right wing has been maintaining its pressure without actually moving forward, while in the northern sphere our left wing has advanced a considerable distance in face of opposition."

"On the Aisne, since the repulse inflicted on the enemy the night of October 10, there has been no serious fighting and less artillery action than usual because of mist, rainy weather has rendered observation almost impossible. On the night of October 13-14 the enemy commenced an attack which was not rushed through and which may be regarded as a demonstration. Our patrols have been active with the bayonet at night and they have accounted for numerous small parties of German infantry left to occupy their front trenches. But the positions of the opposing forces have remained practically unchanged."

"In the north of France the fighting so far has been of a preparatory nature alone."

The narrative here describes the nature of the country along the Belgian frontier, explaining that hedges are frequent, that trees often restrict the view and that means of communication are bad.

"It is in a blind country of this nature," the narrator goes on, "that our advance guards near the Belgian front are engaging the advanced troops of the enemy. The latter occupy in some places of cavalry supported by Jager and Schutz detachments, with large numbers of machine guns and others with larger bodies of infantry."

CROSS DUTCH FRONTIER.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Rotterdam to the Daily Telegraph states that the English and French still in Ostend and other Belgian coast towns have been ordered to leave within two hours. They are obeying the mandate and are crossing the Dutch frontier.

A dispatch from Havre to the Daily Telegraph states that the Belgians regained the right bank of the Yser river on Wednesday and are prepared to move forward.

GERMAN CASUALTIES 10,000.

"The total German casualties in the channel coast fighting are estimated at 10,000," declares a dispatch to the Chronicle from Dunkirk. "Seven hundred Germans have been buried near Neuport."

"Thirty thousand Germans, who had entrenched themselves between Ostend and Neuport, retired to Ostend, leaving behind a great quantity of equipment."

"It is reported that during the British fleet's bombardment of the German line the Germans lost a convoy eight miles long, which was wrecked by shells. The Times from Rotterdam dated Thursday says: "Information from several quarters is to the effect that nearly two thousand Germans crossed into Dutch territory on Wednesday and that they will be conveyed to North Holland for internment."

VILLAGES ON FIRE.

"The villages of Schooten, Leffinghe, Wilskeke and Slupe, in Northern Belgium, are all partly on fire," according to the Daily Mail's Flushing correspondent.

"The Germans," the correspondent adds, "are making trenches and bringing guns and machine guns to Zebrugge, apparently in preparation for a retreat. Six thousand bottles of wine were demanded from Ostend yesterday."

"The German general staff has left Ghent and there are strong rumors of a severe German defeat," says the Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail. "Messages from different points of the northwest frontier agree that the German coast army is being rolled up like a ribbon."

"The German cavalry has been unable to maneuver in the tangled like country and the German big guns are stuck in bogs. By a magnificent attack, it is stated, the Franco-British forces have cut the German line south of Ostend."

The correspondent of the Times in Northern France, on the other hand, demonstrates that there is no foundation for the report that Bruges has been evacuated by the Germans. He says the small parties of German infantry left to occupy their front trenches. But the positions of the opposing forces have remained practically unchanged.

ALLIES MAINTAIN THEIR POSITION

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 22, 2:55.—The official announcement given out at the War Office this afternoon says:

"On our left wing the very considerable German forces, whose presence was reported yesterday, have continued very violent attacks in the entire region between the sea and the canal of La Bassée."

"Generally speaking, the situation of the allied forces has been maintained. If the allies have had to yield at certain points, they have advanced at others. The enemy also has evidenced great activity in the region of Arras and on the River Somme. To the north and to the south of this stream we have progressed, particularly in the region of Rosters."

"In the Somme region, the region of Verdun, and in the region of Pont a Mousson, we have had some partial successes. On the rest of the front there is nothing to report."

"To sum up: The enemy appears to be undertaking, along the major part of the front and particularly between the North Sea and the Oise, a new effort, making use of corps made up of new organizations. These are composed of men recently drilled, some of them very young and others of middle age, and have staffs drawn from various parts of the army."

"Russia: To the south of the Pilica the Germans still hold the Vistula river, with the exception of the line from Ivangorod to Koziello. This they have abandoned, pursued by the Russians."

"All the efforts made by the Austrians to capture the Poles San to the north of Jaroslav have been repulsed, and the Russians are undertaking the offensive in this region."

GERMANS CLAIM ADVANCE.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 23, via London, 5:10 p. m.—An official announcement from German army headquarters dated October 23, says:

"On the Yser Canal yesterday we gained successes."

"To the south of Dixmude our troops advanced."

"To the west of Lille our attacks were successful. We took possession of several villages."

"On the rest of the western front it is generally quiet."

"In the eastern theater of war the Russian attacks near West Augustowo have been repulsed. We captured several machine guns."

"There is no definite news from the southeastern field of war."

Great New Army to Battle for France

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—New forces are ready to join General Joffre's armies, says a Bordeaux dispatch to the Times. "The German army," it says, "after two months' training are now fit to bear arms. They are excellent material, young and enthusiastic and will be joined at the front by a section of the reserve not yet called to the colors, representing probably nearly half a million entirely fresh troops."

Censures Custom That Foreigners Are Outlaws

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23 (By Wireless).—The following statement in the matter of the recent anti-German demonstrations in London, has been given out in official quarters:

"The English judge, in the course of proceedings against the perpetrators of these anti-German outrages, expressed regret at the doctrine that foreigners in England are outlaws."

activities to the south and southwest have rendered necessary."

REPORT 70,000 PRISONERS.

"Victory is with the allies. Seventy thousand men have been taken. Three guns and thirty-one flags have been captured."

This telegram from the burgomaster of Wenduine, Belgium, is given in an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News.

Wenduine is a province of West Flanders on the Belgian coast. Chalons and Longwy are respectively in the French departments of Marne and Meurthe-et-Moselle, nearly 200 miles southeast of the Belgian province from which the above dispatch emanates.

LILLE IN RUINS.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 23.—"Lille is a mass of ruins and ashes," says the Daily Telegraph Boulogne correspondent, who left that city Wednesday. "On Monday evening numbers of Germans entered the town. The bombardment ceased, but distant firing still was heard south of the town until 1 o'clock in the morning."

"About midnight the news was given out that the white flag had been hoisted on the town hall, but at 2 o'clock the firing recommenced and continued for over three hours. Evidently the French were making a last attempt on the border town, unfortunately without success."

"Later military music was heard. The Germans entered the town to the tune of the sing and drum. Most of them were very gay and smoked big black cigars as they marched along."

"Meanwhile aeroplanes flying the German flag flew ahead of the columns announcing to the city its occupation by the Germans. At daybreak the German flag began to leave, for the most part flying toward Roubaix. Those who traveled to Boulogne heard reports later that the Germans the next day commenced withdrawing from Lille."

Military Summons Declared Invalid

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, by way of The Hague and London, Oct. 23, 9:20 a. m.—Field Marshal Von der Goltz, military governor of Belgium, has issued a proclamation declaring that the Belgian government's orders summoning three military classes to the colors, is without validity. The relatives of those who obeyed and left their home are therefore made responsible.

The war session of the Prussian Diet Thursday saw many members present who had returned from the battlefields. They wore their uniforms and many were adorned with iron crosses, some of 1870 and others of 1914.

CAPITAL OF BUKOWINA IS RETAKEN

Austrians Report Recapture of Czernowicz, Held by Russians

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23 (By Wireless).—According to official announcement made in Vienna, Czernowicz, capital of the crown land of Bukowina, which has been in the possession of the Russians since early in the war, has been retaken by the Austrians.

They have captured also two Russian field fortifications, located one behind the other, to the southeast of Sambor. To the northwest of Sambor Austrian troops are proceeding in the direction of Starytsch.

During recent engagements Austrian troops have taken 3400 Russian prisoners, among whom are twenty-five officers. They have captured also fifteen machine guns.

CLAIM GERMANS ARE RUTED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—"The German advance in Poland has been transformed into a hasty and in some parts a disorderly retreat," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail. "This retreat was primarily caused by a Russian cavalry force from Novgorod, which moved the Vistula and turned the enemy's left flank."

"The retreat of the German left wing will force the army operating around Kozienice and Ivangorod to retreat also as well as the army in the vicinity of Sandomir and to the southward. Thus the ambitious plan to capture Warsaw and possess both banks of the Vistula during the winter campaign has been completely wrecked."

RUSSIAN CAVALRY ACTIVE.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Post, in telegraphing a review of the situation on the Russian front, says:

"Only time is now required to reduce the Germanic forces in their entirety from a fighting army to a beaten mob. The Russian cavalry is pressing hard upon their retreat, which is over abominable sloughs of roads, flanked by bog and mud and forest. Prisoners and other trophies of success are being taken all the time, but no attempt has yet been made to estimate their numbers."

PUSH ATTACK SOUTH OF RIVER.

A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam gives the following Austrian official report issued at Vienna Thursday at noon:

"In the battle on both banks of the river Stryk, south of Sambor, we succeeded in pushing forward our attack south of the river. On the heights southeast of Svant and Sambor, two fortified positions of the Russians which run in parallel directions, have been occupied by us. Northwest of Svant and Sambor our fighting line came nearer the road to Starytsch."

"Our troops have entered Czernowicz, Bukowina."

AERIAL WARFARE FAILURE.

A Petrograd dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company says:

"The comparative ineffectiveness of aerial warfare was proved at Warsaw where bombs thrown by German aviators missed the railway, fire, telegraph and telephone stations and troops on the march. They only struck and destroyed the upper stories of some private houses, while many fell quite harmlessly."

"Only one hand-dropping was attended with any success. It fell on some infantry baggage and wounded several soldiers and civilians who were standing nearby."

"It was popularly reported at Warsaw that Emperor William had said if the town could not be taken by land it must be taken from the air."

AUSTRIANS CLAIM GAINS.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23, by wireless.—Information received here from Vienna says it has been announced officially that the Austrian troops are still gaining ground.

They attacked the Russian fortified positions near Felsztyn and stormed the heights to the north of Magiera on Tuesday. They have occupied the last pass across the Carpathian mountains in Russian hands, called the Jablonica pass, and Hungarian territory is now completely clear of Russians. In the crown land of Bukowina the Austrians are advancing toward Sereth."

The correspondent in Berlin of the Rome Tribune has admitted that the confidence of the Germans in the general staff of the army is quite justified by its incomparable organization."

The Paris Temps, according to an announcement made here, reports that the English have confiscated and sold very valuable German and Austrian race horses, worth in all more than $200,000. This fact, it is said, together with the confiscation of the racing yacht owned by Herr Knip Von Zolheim, proves that the English have no respect for private property."

Belgian Rulers Are at Front With Army

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A dispatch from Amsterdam to the Reuter Telegram Company says that the newspaper Handelsblad of that city learns that the Belgian King and Queen are still with the Belgian army.

Canadian Food Will Aid Belgian Refugees

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Standard states that 250,000 bags of flour and 4,000,000 pounds of cheese, a war gift to the mother country from Canada, has been lying on the London docks for the past two months because of the difficulty in discovering who is responsible for its handling. It has now

BATTLE AT JULES VERNE'S BIRTHPLACE

By Associated Press. PARIS, Oct. 22.—The struggle on the Belgian line extending into Belgium, now called the battle of Jule Verne, gave rise to an engagement along the coast near the birthplace of Jules Verne, in which aircraft and submarines participated, realizing for the first time in the same encounter the dreams of the great Frenchman. The British monitors off shore did great execution in the German trenches, among those reported killed being General Von Trapp and his staff. While the allies' armies cleverly directed the aim of the marine guns, the German submarines lying in wait, attacked the monitors, but without result, because the latter were so far in shore. Here again the critics remark that the attempt of the Germans to turn the allies' left and reach the French coast has been defeated and the Germans again have been forced to retreat to their original position.

Portuguese Civilians and Troops Clash

By Associated Press. LISBON, Oct. 22, via Paris, Oct. 22, 5:20 p. m.—The monarchists of Portugal made attempts the night of October 20 and October 21 to effect uprisings. There were outbreaks at various places, especially in the northern part of Portugal, which for a time was cut off from telegraphic communication with Lisbon. A sharp conflict took place at Mafra between 100 civilians and Republican troops. The civilians were led by a Lieutenant, who seized the arsenal. The troops were victorious. An insurgent band, numbering 200 men was pursued to the mountains. Portions of the railroad track at Santarem and Mafra were torn up and trains were detained. A colonel and two sergeants were arrested at Santarem and many anarchists were taken into custody in Lisbon.

German Raids on Sea Cause Britons Fear

By Associated Press. LONDON, Oct. 23.—The great haul of merchant ships by the German cruiser Goeben has been a rude shock to those who have contended that the Atlantic ocean was held safely by the British navy, but the Goeben have lost no time in pointing out that the fleet can not at the same time destroy hundreds of transport and safeguard every merchant ship. The sinking of merchant vessels without loss of life, it is remarked, involves no military injury, while the capture of a group of transports would be a disaster. Chambers of commerce, however, are agitating for a sweeping operation sufficiently wide to not both the German cruiser Goeben, in Indian waters, and the equally successful Karlsruhe.

TO COMMAND CHESTER.

By Associated Press. BERLIN (via London), Oct. 23.—Commander Reginald B. Finds No Basis in Cruelty Allegations

By Associated Press. BERLIN, by way of Amsterdam and London, Oct. 23.—While most of the German papers continue to publish allegations of outrages by the troops of the allies the Vorwärts declares it has investigated a number of specific instances of alleged cruelties practiced on German civilians and soldiers and found no basis of truth in the allegations.

By Associated Press. VICTORIA, B. The Bandale is expected tomorrow. The circumstances connected with her capture are not known, but it is supposed they are similar to those connected with the seizure of the British freighter Lovely, which was brought to Esquimalt Wednesday from Mexican waters, under suspicion of supplying coal to German cruisers.

Uncle Sam May Add to Guard in China

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Probability of increasing American forces in China along the railway from Peking to the sea, because of the withdrawal of troops of nations engaged in the European conflict, is being considered by the War Department.

The legations were guarded by troops of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, Germany, Austria, Russia, and Belgium. Many of these have been ordered out since the war began and the United States probably will supply the necessary additional guards.

When the war broke out the United States, at the request of the foreign powers, extended the American troops to guard the line from Peking to Mukden. Major General Barry, commanding the Philippine department, went to China to inspect the arrangement and reported that the guard seemed sufficient. The general opinion here is that the 500 American troops now stationed in China will be sufficient.

U. S. Protests Seizure of Another Vessel

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The United States has decided to formally protest to Great Britain against the seizure of the Standard Oil ship, the Platuria, demanding her release from British detention at Stornoway, a port in the Lewis Islands, Scotland.

The protest, which is identical to that filed in the case of the Brindilla, held at Halifax, will go forward late today to Ambassador Page at London. The Platuria, which like the Brindilla, carried illuminating oil, was similarly bound from one neutral country to another.

Lighters to Aid German Landing in England

By Associated Press. COPENHAGEN, via London, Oct. 23.—Two shipyards at Kiel, the Germania and the Howald, are building thirty armored lighters capable of carrying 500 men each, and traveling at the rate of nine miles an hour to proceed to the River Scheldt should events permit the landing of German troops on the coast of England. Furthermore, it is asserted that three of these lighters are completed and already on their way to the Scheldt.

The Germans are building an airship shed in Schlesburg for two large Zeppelins. The Reichsmarschall at Mafra, Sweden, are building two submarines, but as no money has been appropriated by the Swedish parliament for submarines, according to information here, the suggestion is made in Copenhagen that they were ordered by Germany.

ADJOURNING OF CONGRESS UPSET

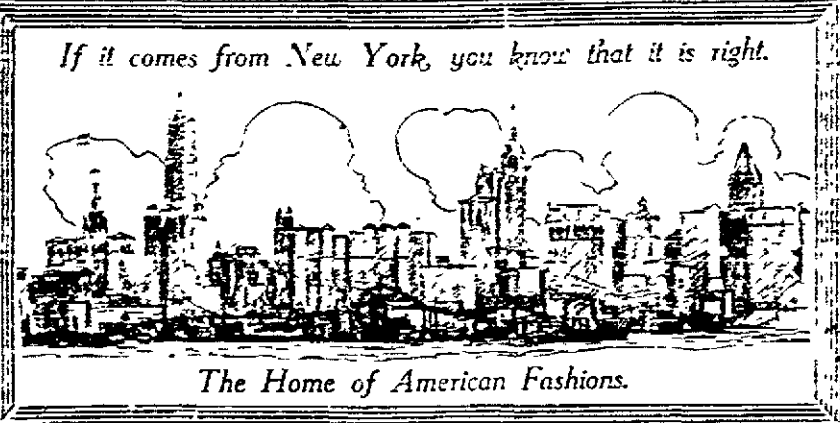

Obstructive Tactics by Southern Democrats Frustrates Program of Legislators.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The Senate adjourned to noon tomorrow and hopes of an end to this congressional session today went glimmering.
Probabilities that President Wilson would exercise his constitutional power and adjourn Congress to a later date were today in jeopardy. The session, were considered today by administration leaders after the President had conferred with Speaker Clark and Senators Kern and Overman.
Speaker Clark said he was sure both houses now sitting without a quorum would be unable to agree on adjournment, and he believed the country would endorse such action by the President.
In the Senate there was possibility that the filibuster of senators from the cotton states might be abandoned, but in the House the champions of cotton relief were reported ready to block adjournment resolutions on a point of no quorum.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Congress met today with the program for adjournment completely upset as a result of obstructive tactics on the part of Southern Democrats who are demanding legislation to relieve the cotton situation. The plan to adjourn at 6 o'clock last night immediately following the adoption of the conference report on the war revenue bill was frustrated by the filibuster which prevented action by the Senate on a joint resolution calling for adjournment at that time and to which the House had agreed.
As the leaders had no definite plan, the date on which the session would come to an end was still problematical early today. Despite the fact that they hoped that the final disposition of the war tax measure would be the concluding act of the session, it appeared that the work of Congress was still uncompleted, as cotton state members had served notice they would continue today their fight for legislative aid for cotton growers.

WAR TAX BILL SIGNED.
Meanwhile the war tax bill, estimated to bring in $90,000,000 of revenue, was the law of the land today, having received the signature of President Wilson. The taxes on beer and wine were in effect today, but the levy on tobacco will not go into effect until November 1. The stamp taxes will date from December 1.
President Wilson had signed the bill at the Capitol amid exciting scenes, senators who were endeavoring to carry out the adjournment program, were standing back and forth between the President's room and the Senate chamber, watches in their hands, as the hour set for adjournment approached. The President came in an automobile from the golf links to the Capitol in order to add his name to the war revenue measure before adjournment. Rushing into the Capitol he hastened to the President's room, where the bill awaited him.

WILSON BORROWS GLASSES.
The measure already had been signed by the presiding officer of both branches of Congress. Not having his glasses with him, President Wilson borrowed a pair from Senator Hughes of New Jersey and immediately affixed his signature to the measure. Although the President stayed at the Capitol for a few minutes after he had signed the bill, he had nothing to say regarding the failure of the adjournment program.
The question of adjournment was still further complicated today by reason of the fact that many members of both houses had already left for their homes in anticipation of the plans for adjournment last night being carried out. Majority Leader Underwood was of the opinion that under these circumstances it would be impossible to have a quorum on hand again to pass an adjournment resolution until after the November elections.
MAY AGREE TO RECESS.
Although Majority Leader Kern and other Democratic senators had expressed doubts regarding adjournment at this time, it was believed that the recess plan might be agreed upon today by Democrats from the cotton states if they had assurances that measures designed to afford relief in the cotton situation would be considered after the elections. Senator Hoke Smith, who led the fight in the Senate in behalf of this legislation, had signified that he might agree to such a plan.

Tomorrow Is Introductory Saturday at This New Oakland Store

Last Day of Our Opening Specials

If you attended our Opening Wednesday and were a little disappointed at not finding the store entirely finished and in order, we urge you to come again tomorrow, Saturday. To those who may not have received the proper attention Wednesday we extend an apology.

Extra salespeople will be here tomorrow and our entire stock of Suits, Coats and Dresses, the very last word in New York Fashions, will be ready for inspection.

The three Opening Specials will be continued until the closing hour—10 o'clock Saturday night.

Suits at $18.00 such as have never been seen in Oakland before under $35.00. Coats at $15.00 that are positive $25.00 values. And $17.50 and $20.00 Dresses for $12.50.

Drop in and see this handsome new Oakland store even though you are not interested in these Opening specials. Courteous treatment will be accorded all.

Introductory Dress Special $12.50

Smart, chic, snappy—by far the best dress values that have come to the Coast this season, and they are here almost as quick as they were seen in New York. Many of them are combinations of velvet and satin in delightful color effects, brown velvet and black satin, open and black, wistaria, navy, etc. A touch of militarism in the designing is perceptible.

Introductory Coat Special $15

Is it any wonder we sell so many Coats in our San Francisco store when such values prevail? Here is a case in point—the coat shown above is an exquisite creation in plush, beautifully tailored, and all we ask for it tomorrow, as an Introductory Special is $15. At $10, $12.50, $14.75 and thereabouts we have every kind of coat that is wanted—every last one of them a wonderful value.

Introductory Suit Special $18

These Suits are not all alike, each and every one is distinctly different and expresses an exclusiveness. Only in price are they alike. Some have short coats, others long coats, and then there are the intermediate lengths. Everybody tells us they are the best suit values of the season. It would be hard to think of any of the new colors or materials that are not included.
Speaking of our suits at $22.50, $25, $30, $35, the same value proportionately will be found in them. We leave the fancy prices to the "exclusive shopping district."

JAPANESE CRUSHED TO DEATH BY HEAVY TRUCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—K. Doi, a wealthy Japanese rancher and asparagus grower of Lower Sherman Island in the Sacramento river, was run over and crushed to death by an automobile truck at Second and Market streets, shortly before noon today. The Japanese had come here to make some purchases and alighted from a car at the crossing. He stepped from behind the car almost directly in front of a heavy machine driven by J. H. Peck, of 639 Jackson street. The wheels of the truck passed over his body and he was almost instantly killed. Peck picked him up and raced in the machine to the Harbor Hospital, but life was extinct.

Peck was arrested and charged with manslaughter.

Aged Man Falls Dead Across Jurist's Lap

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—While engaged in trying to sell his house at 1815 Argyle avenue to Federal Judge Benjamin Bledsoe, E. W. McLeod, 73 years old, fell dead across Judge Bledsoe's lap.

The tragedy was the climax of a pathetic story of financial losses and business reverses which had worried McLeod during the last year.
Hearing that Judge Bledsoe wished to buy a home in this city, McLeod telephoned to him yesterday to visit his home. On Judge Bledsoe's arrival the elder man began to tell him of his troubles and became overwrought, pitched from his chair across Judge Bledsoe's knees. As the judge raised McLeod in his arms he saw death had released the aged man.

'MILESTONES' HAS HEART APPEALS

Remarkable Play Is Well Presented at Macdonough by English Company.

Three way-stations on Life's Highway—a man and wife, their children and their children's children, traces through fortune and adversity, happiness and sorrow; a picture of life, just a picture—that's "Milestones," the remarkable play that last night opened at the Macdonough theater. The play's not a play—it's a series of pictures—little etchings of life—telling several little stories, all connected through the characters being bound by family ties. Every act has a romance—two being in broken hearts as well as happiness; and laughs and tears are blended in the remarkable presentation of the life of John and Gertrude Rhead, and their families and friends.
"Milestones" obeys no rules of the drama. Arnold Bennett and Edward Knoblauch violated every literary precedent and limitation. They obeyed only the heart. That, perhaps, is why the play is one that sinks deep into the memory: a series of stories that grip the deepest chords of the human heart, and evoke emotions both sad and joyous—little echoes of happiness or woe that will long linger and vibrate in the consciousness of those who saw.
SHOWS THREE PERIODS.
Presented faithfully by an all-English company, "Milestones" shows three periods. John Rhead and his wife are married in 1860, after he has disagreed with his partners, foreseeing the coming of iron ships which is to make his shipworks the greatest in the world. His partner and sister, engaged, break, and never wed. He wins the girl of his choice and fame.
The second act shows the couple in 1885, he wealthy and famous, and she a sweet-faced middle-aged woman. Their daughter loves one of his engineers; is forced to marry a titled Englishman against her will, for social ambition had crept into the household, and is brokenhearted as the curtain goes down.
The third act, set in 1912, shows the golden wedding celebration of John Rhead and his wife. Their daughter, a widow, finds that her daughter loves another poor man, and seeks to force her, even as she was forced, to give up her love for social success. The spirit, the modern times, however, is different and the daughter is defiant. Then the mother and daughter have a talk and the mother goes down on the grandfather and grandmother—happy in the happiness of their descendants.

ABLE CHARACTERIZATION.
Rupert Harvey and Miss Florence Evans take the parts of John Rhead and his wife, and present remarkable characterizations. Gerald Rogers, Miss Mary Goulden, Winifred Letimer, Katherine Herbert, Arthur Row, and a number of others are seen to advantage.

A remarkable feature is the art of makeup employed, as each character is seen stated from extreme youth to old age. But this is mechanical—the play is the thing—and a wonderful thing "Milestones" will be seen tonight, tomorrow night and at tomorrow's matinee.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 23.—"John D. Rockefeller nous the destinies of this nation and his hands," declared Mother Jones in an address before the Illinois State Federation of Labor here yesterday. She is on her way to Washington to place the Colorado mine situation before President Wilson. Mother Jones asked that a resolution be drawn up and presented to the president, asking him to interfere in the strike situation. The resolution was sent on tonight.

SUSPECT MISSING ACTOR MET WITH FOUL PLAY

No trace can be found of Walter Cluxton, an actor with the Nat. C. Goodwin Company, who disappeared yesterday morning and has not been heard of since. Cluxton was residing with the company at the St. Mark hotel and went out yesterday morning for a stroll. He did not appear for the performance and the hotel authorities are beginning to think that he has met with foul play. Cluxton was dressed in an expensive blue suit. He is about thirty-five years of age and is a striking type of the French-Canadian.

WERE KIDNAPING SAFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—John Stafford was arrested by Patrolman A. L. O'Brien and placed in detention this morning following his peculiar actions in the saloon of Wierle & Wilton, 55 Market street. Stafford, with two other men entered the place and asked permission to use the telephone. Emil Wierle, the bartender, escorted them to the office. They remained 15 minutes, and, suspecting something was wrong, he entered. As he did so two of the men fled, the third, Stafford hiding behind the safe, which was open. Calling to Patrolman O'Brien, who was outside, Wierle caused Stafford to get out of the field glasses which had been in the safe were found where they had been dropped 10 feet away evidently by one of the fugitives. AGED WOMAN TEACHER MAY DIE OF INJURIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Miss A. Eliza Slavin, aged 80 years, for forty years principal of the Garfield school up to ten years ago, was run down by a horse and buggy at Powell and Market streets, early last evening, and probably fatally injured.

Miss Slavin was crossing Market street, and turned to avoid an automobile, only to step in front of the horse driven by Walter Schmidt. She was knocked down and fell head first on the pavement. Schmidt took her to the Central Emergency Hospital, where it was found that she had concussion of the brain. She was removed to St. Mary's Hospital.

Miss Slavin has been a noted figure among San Francisco educators. Since she retired she has been living at her home on Cumberland street, between Church and Dolores.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Judge Graham decided yesterday that W. C. Ralston had never received $1000 from L. WOMAN'S DEATH BRINGS WILL CASE TO AN END.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 23.—With the recent death of Mrs. Harriet Blaisdell of Champlain, Ill., the once nationally famous Durkee will case has suffered a relapse, from which it may never be revived, according to prominent attorneys here.

Mrs. Blaisdell was a direct descendant of Colonel Durkee. For years her husband, an attorney, haunted official circles in Washington, until he became physically and mentally weakened by the strain, and died. Funds ran low, although the goal had not yet been reached, and the case was founded upon the allegations involving the Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads. During the legal wrangle, lasting thirty-five years, the Durkee will was found, providing for Mrs. Blaisdell.

According to the heirs, the government still has this $25,000,000 awaiting the arrival of its legal owner.

STRONGER COAST DEFENSE ASKED

Urgent Plea Made for More Men in Garrisons of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. — An urgent plea for more men to man the country's coast defenses was made by Brigadier General E. M. Weaver, chief of coast artillery, in his annual report submitted yesterday to Secretary Garrison. General Weaver asked for in addition to the proposed force at Cape Henry to command the entrance to Chesapeake bay.

Calling attention to the fact that many of the foreign warships of latest design are to carry guns larger than 14 inches in caliber, General Weaver asked that 25 inch guns be placed for Cape Henry.

"Otherwise," he said, "those fortifications may be subjected not only to a much greater volume of fire than can be delivered by them, but also have the disadvantage of replying to that fire with guns of inferior power both by the gun and by reason of its shorter length."

Of the need for additional artillery men the general said:

"The supply of coast artillery troops for the United States proper is so far below the requirements as to make it a matter deserving the serious consideration of congress."

He reported 504 officers and 10,585 men below the needed number, explaining that the taking of companies, to which must be added 24 more in the future, for service in the Philippines, Hawaii and the canal zone, had crippled the service at home.

"Unless provision is made in the near future," the report continued, "for additional coast artillery personnel, it will be necessary to reduce the garrisons to mere caretaker detachments at some of the defenses of lesser importance, including Portsmouth, Delaware, Charleston, Savannah, Key West, New Bedford, Potomac, Tampa, Columbia, Baltimore, Cape Fear and Mobile."

PANIC AVERTED, BANKER ASSERTS

Clearing House Certificates Saved Situation; Prosperity Dawning.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. — The successful application of the clearing house certificate basis of exchange between banks—a device which he said may have averted a panic at the beginning of the war, according to Charles G. Daves, president of the Central Trust company, in an address here yesterday.

"The crisis was met by heroic means," he said. "The purchasing power of the nation was threatened with destruction. Out of the chaos, however, grew conditions that justify me in predicting that America is about to enter the greatest period of prosperity in its history."

"The clearing house certificate basis of exchange makes a banking panic in this city impossible. If it were extended to an international system it would make impossible the world panic that might follow a world war. It would save the purchasing power of Europe as it has this country and enable them to establish conditions of prosperity."

MONTEREY FISH FEED WILL BE HUGE AFFAIR

MONTEREY, Oct. 23. — The stage is being set. The scene is laid, and the corps of stage managers is hard at work completing plans for the reception of the 200 odd actors who are to take part in the show.

Monterey's Fish Feed will be a stupendous affair. Half a hundred writers will purvey delicious recipes to people from all sections of the state next Saturday and more than a dozen cooks will prepare the fishy delicacies.

The invitations have all been sent out. Every sporting club, every civic organization, every commercial body has received one, and almost 100 editors of newspapers and magazines both north and south have been recipients of invitations during the past week.

PROFESSORS INVITED.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 23.—A lectureship at Harvard University for the second half of the college year will be offered to one of the professors of the University of Louvain. A cablegram making this announcement was sent yesterday by President Lowell to Lady Osier, wife of Sir William Osier, of Oxford University, who is acting as hostess to members of the Louvain faculty who have taken refuge in England.

THREE YEARS, PENALTY OF BROKEN PROBATION

John Dooley, the 21-year-old boy who pleaded guilty to the charge of entering the home of Mrs. Gray, 423 Bond street, and stealing a Gladstone bag, was yesterday sentenced to a term of three years and a half in San Quentin, for violation of the probation that Judge Ogden at that time granted him. Mrs. Orpha Hall, mother of the youth, who was present in the court, fainted in the arms of her convicted son, after the judgment of the court was pronounced by Judge Ogden. The young man had violated his probation by becoming intoxicated and molesting some little girls who testified against him this afternoon.

Economic Effect of Prohibition.

In a paper by Frank T. Swett at a meeting of California Fruit Growers last June appears this striking sentence:

"TO THE MEN AND FAMILIES WHO ARE INDUCED TO TAKE THE SAVINGS OF A LIFETIME AND INVEST IN LAND, THE STATE OWES SOMETHING."

To which may be added another paragraph:

"TO THE MEN AND WOMEN WHO HAVE BY YEARS OF LABOR AND THRIFT RECLAIMED THE SOIL AND ON IT ESTABLISHED A GREAT INDUSTRY; ONE THAT BRINGS MILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO THE STATE AND ADDS TO THE PROSPERITY OF ITS PEOPLE, THE STATE OWES SOMETHING."

In the light of the efforts to destroy at one stroke the agencies that have contributed so much to the benefit of California, both statements are forceful and worthy of consideration, especially when such agencies have contributed to the happiness of the great mass without endangering the happiness of others.

It is not disputed that the passage of Amendment No. 2 on the ballot would destroy the wine and brewing industries of the state; as a matter of fact the advocates of that amendment urge its adoption because it will destroy them.

In the face of such a condition, what is the duty of the elector? It is to carefully weigh the consequences of such action and when all the facts—not theories, facts—have been considered, to vote in such manner as to bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

Estimates of the area of California's vineyards vary slightly, but it is said on the best authority obtainable to be between 320,000 and 340,000 acres. About half this area is planted to wine grapes; there are 110,000 in raisin grapes and 50,000, or about one seventh in table grapes.

The passage of the prohibition amendment would mean the elimination of the wine grape industry and the crippling of the raisin and table grape industry, the putting out of business the seven hundred wineries of California and the consequent throwing upon the labor market of 75,000 employees, not to mention the others engaged in distribution, sale, bottlemaking, glass making, printing and other occupations connected.

The wine industry of California is one of the state's chief assets. It has been steadily growing since it was first discovered that California was peculiarly adapted to the growing of the grape. For the five-year term ending in 1873 when the production was 16,800,000 gallons, to the five-year term ending in 1913 when it was 225,815,945 gallons, there has been an advance, not only in quantity as shown, but in quality, until this industry has become so productive as to warrant an income to the growers of California FROM EXPORTS ALONE, of from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 in ten years—enough to pay every farm mortgage in this commonwealth twice over.

It is proposed to shut off this source of income in addition to throwing men and women engaged in winemaking out of work, thus inflicting a double economic loss upon the state.

It is not the purpose of THE TRIBUNE to discuss in this issue anything save the wine industry. Cooperage, glass bottle making, printing, drayage and other industries will be left alone in this argument. As has been stated the eradication of the wine industry would mean the throwing out of employment of about 75,000 persons.

Do the promoters of the passage of this amendment realize what that means to California? Let us reason together. Assuming that only 25,000 of this 75,000 are adults and married. The estimate is too low, but we are willing to give our Prohibition friends the best of the argument. The average family consists of five persons, so that by the passage of this amendment we have 175,000 persons, young and old, deprived of a means of support. To what other industry can they turn and what other business in California will absorb the 75,000 employees in the face of the depression prevailing when most of our industries are already overcrowded.

THE PASSAGE OF THIS AMENDMENT WOULD, BY THE DESTRUCTION OF THE VINEYARDS IT DEMANDS, THE CURTAILMENT OF THE REVENUE THAT WOULD FOLLOW, AND THE THROWING OUT OF EMPLOYMENT OF SO MANY THOUSANDS, CREATE A FINANCIAL PANIC IN THIS STATE, despite its other and varied resources.

"But," says the advocate of Prohibition, "we can make grape juice of our wine grapes." Grape juice nothing. The wine grape is not adapted for that purpose. California grapes are low in acid and of no distinctive flavor like the grape juice grapes, the tart, musky Concord.

"Well, then," is the next argument, "make the juice into grape syrup." Another impossibility so far as practicability is concerned. No one has been able to market it for practicable purposes. It cannot compete with corn syrup in any market. Its only use is to sweeten port and sherry.

The next substitute lies in the suggestion that the vines be grafted into table grapes. Already this state can produce 20,000 cars of table grapes annually and where is the market for 20,000 carsloads. There is a market in the east for about 6500 cars annually and about 1000 cars on the coast. With the exception of 1913, when eastern grapes and other fruits were short, the markets have been glutted for weeks at a time and thousands of car loads have been sold at less than the cost of production.

The raisin grape grower and the table grape grower depend largely, and always have so depended, upon the wine industry for the care of their surplus.

Men engaged in the wine grape industry are made up largely of settlers who have come here attracted by the possibilities. Many of these men have mortgaged their lands to get that start in life to which they are entitled. Vineyards cost to plant about $100 an acre. The farms of California are mortgaged to an extent of $60,000,000. In one county alone there is $1,500,000 loaned on vineyards. It is safe to assume that half the mortgages recorded represent vineyard loans. Wiping out this industry means the foreclosure of $30,000,000 of mortgages and a consequent loss to the men and women who have contributed and if let alone will continue to contribute to the commercial greatness of the state.

THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA OWES TO ITS CITIZENS WHO HAVE AIDED IN ITS UPBUILDING SOMETHING. WHAT IS THAT SOMETHING? A GUARANTEE THAT THE TOIL OF YEARS SHALL NOT BE CONFISCATED, THAT INDUSTRIES SHALL NOT BE DESTROYED, BUT PROTECTED; THAT THE MEN AND WOMEN WHO HAVE LABORED FOR YEARS SHALL NOT BE COMPELLED TO FORFEIT THAT WHICH THEY HAVE WRESTED FROM THE SOIL, BUT SHALL BE SECURE IN THE POSSESSION OF THAT WHICH BELONGS TO THEM BY EVERY LAW, NATURAL OR MAN-MADE.

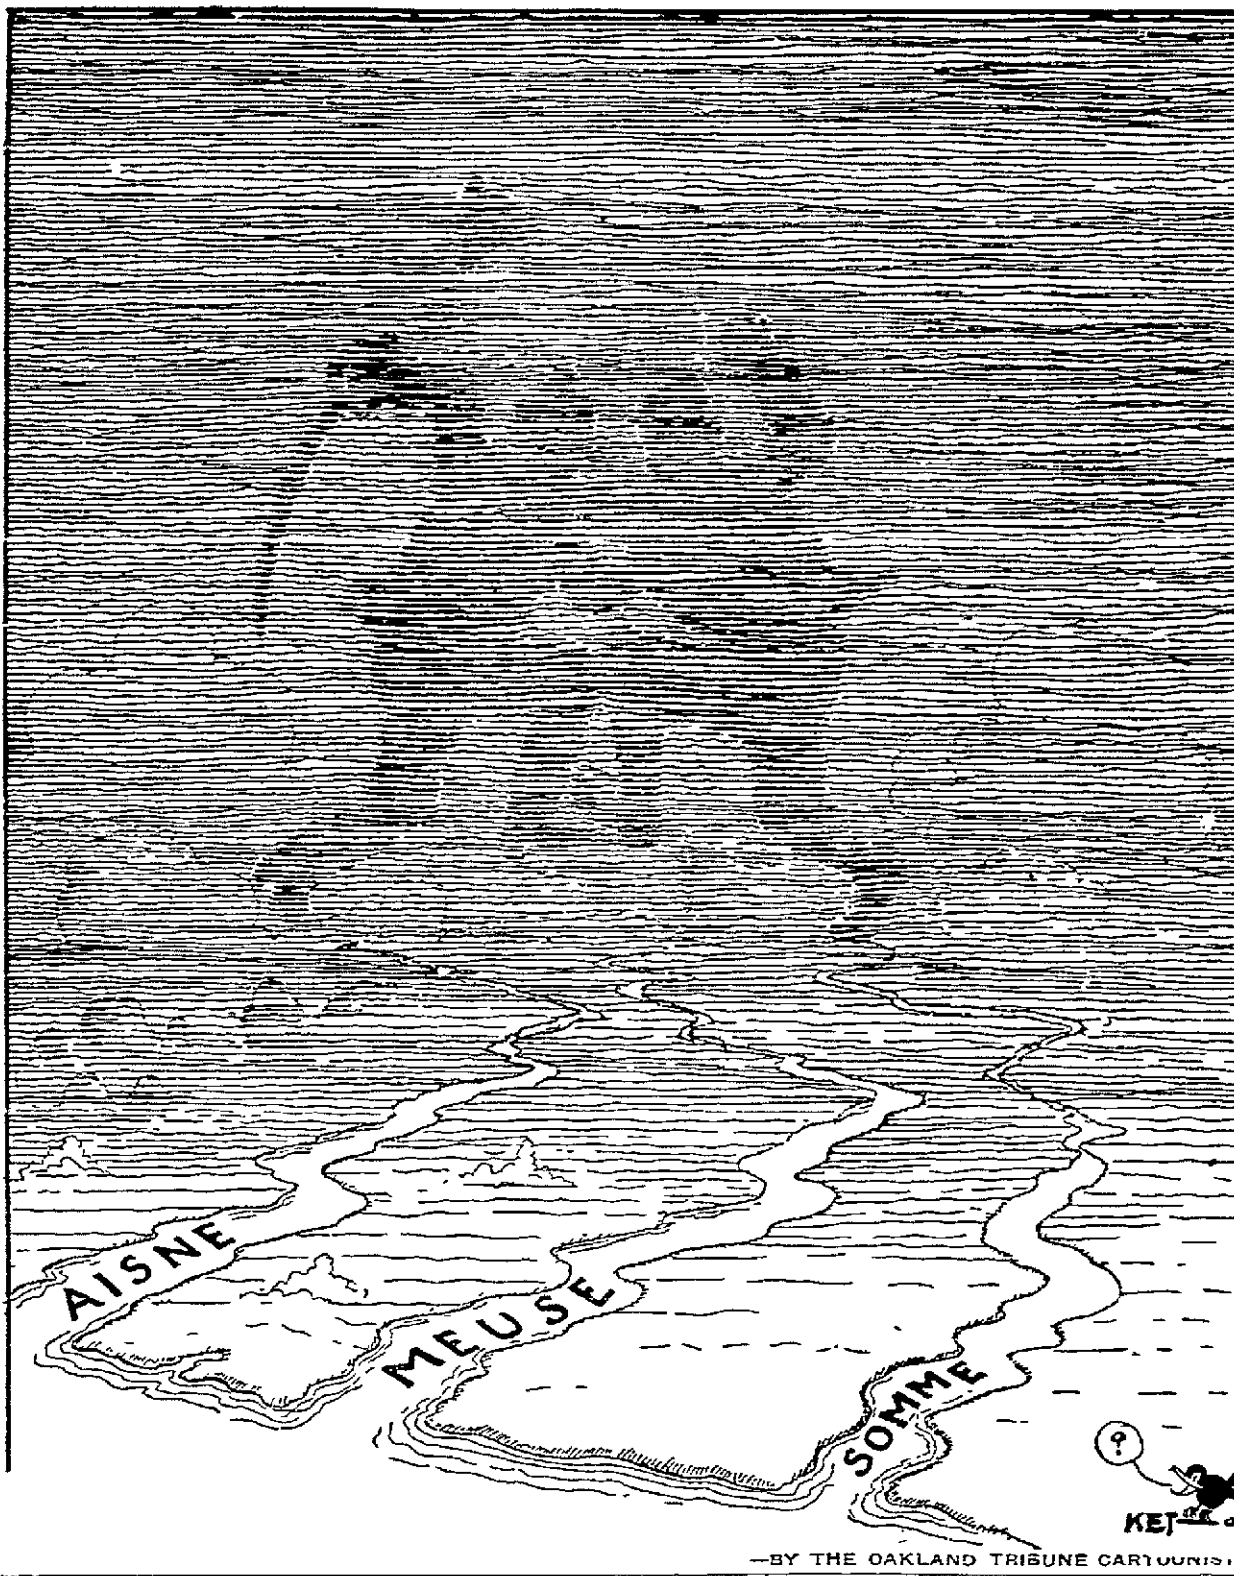

Vote "NO" on Amendment No. 2, which means disaster for California.

Announcement is made that Mayor Mitchel of New York secured the services of a $5000 commission through the medium of a "want ad." But we know of an instance where a man obtained a million-dollar wife by no greater expenditure than a 2-cent stamp.

Face powder having advanced in price, complexions will be more valuable in future.

Speaking of amendments, do not forget to vote for No. 19 and against No. 21. The first is the "Oakland amendment" for consolidation of cities and counties, the second the San Francisco-Los Angeles amendment for the same purpose, but the last has by mutual consent been abandoned. It remains on the ballot, however, and should be defeated.

EAT Mush
for what's in it not for what's out of it

A President of the United States in giving advice on the subject of reading books, said: "It isn't the harm that you'll find in trashy books. It is what you will not find in them." And so it is with breakfast Mush.

Mush made of Roman Meal is nature's food for youth, maturity and old age—containing whole wheat, rye and deodorized flax, with all their native strength elements left in, not exhausted by over-refining.

Roman Meal

Mush is a fine palatable dish without the "trimmings." Its natural nutty flavor makes a superior appeal to the palate. You can serve Roman Meal Mush with cream to which you need add only a comparatively small amount of sugar. Some prefer it without sugar. Others find it extremely delicious by allowing a small piece of butter to melt in the mush when served.

Roman Meal, pound for pound, has a greater food value than meats. Roman Meal comes in a full 3 lb. package and costs 8½c per pound. Roman Meal makes

A Most Palatable Breakfast Mush—
Digestible and Nutty-flavored Hotcakes—
Delightful Cookies, Muffins, Gingerbread and Puddings—
Also Fruitrocks, the semi-confection for the growing child.

YAKUS FORCE BATTLE AT NACO

Maytorena Promises to Shift
Lines; Night Attack Follows.

NACO, Ariz., Oct. 22.—Instead of moving farther away from the American line, as predicted, Maytorena's attacking force of Yaqui Indians moved up closer to the American position at Naco, Arizona, last night, and inflicted more damage upon the defenses of General Hill than at any time previously. Many bullets fell on the American line, but the Yaqui force did not advance.

HIS PROMISE MADE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Governor Maytorena, the Sonora insurgent, doing battle with forces of Carranza opposite Naco, Ariz., according to a report from Brigadier General Bliss to Secretary Garrison today, has promised to move his battle line six miles from the border and thereby stop the firing into Arizona. Stray shots from across the border have already killed and wounded several American troops and civilians.

The Mexican national convention at Aguila, Chihuahua, is still in session, according to official reports today to the State Department. Border dispatches had declared the convention adjourned.

GARRISON INCREASED.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 22.—One thousand troops arrived in Laredo last night from Monterrey, bringing the garrison to about 1,500 men.

Rumors that Villa had sent forces to reduce the place caused the increase of the garrison. Dispatches from Eagle Pass, Tex., today, said two separate commands of Villa were at the border on Piedras Negras and Nuevo Laredo. In Nuevo Laredo all Americans holding positions, either state or federal, have been discharged, by orders from Mexico City.

They include an American doctor employed by the National Railways for the last ten years.

Steel Combine Born of Scheming; Colton

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—The government fired its second gun in an attack on the United States Steel Corporation today when Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the attorney-general, began his argument to have the United States court dissolve the concern on the ground that it is violating the anti-trust law. Jacob M. Dickinson, who opened the case for the government several days ago, will close the case next week after John J. Johnson of Philadelphia makes his argument for the steel corporation.

Colton did not agree with counsel for the defense that the creation of the gigantic corporation was the natural outcome of business conditions, but insisted that it resulted from scheming by five great groups of industrial interests represented by Morgan, Carnegie, Rockefeller, Gates and the Moores. He reiterated the charge that the United States Steel Corporation, purely a holding company, is restraining trade.

SPEEDER BOWLES WILL USE BOYKIN PRECEDENT

That the precedent established in the case of Harry L. Boykin, held to answer in the Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter growing out of his running down Jerome Anderson with an automobile, whose case was returned to the police court on the grounds that there had been no intent to commit crime, may be used in the case of Bowles, who ran down and killed Leona Percival, a school girl, being prosecuted only for exceeding the speed limits, has been intimated by his attorneys who will argue that point.

Following the accident Bowles took his victim to a hospital and rendered all assistance possible. In the case of Boykin, he deserted his victim. After his arrest he was charged with manslaughter but the case was returned to the police court by Superior Judge Ogden, on a charge of failure to give aid to an injured person and placed under $1000 bail. Under the precedent it is probable that attorneys for Bowles, who is a son of Phillip E. Bowles, a local banker, will ask Police Judge Smith to dismiss the case.

FIND CHINAMAN'S BODY.

The body of a dead Chinese, 50 years of age, was found at the foot of the staircase of a Chinese lodging house at 311 Fifth street by roomers in the place and called to the attention of Patrolman Bernard Curran, who had the body removed to the morgue. The man has not been identified. Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent believes the case to be one of natural death. The inmates of the lodging house deny any knowledge of how the body came to be in the place.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

Frank C. Anderson, a well-dressed young man, is in the Oakland city prison, and will be charged with burglary. He was arrested in San Francisco while attempting to sell jewelry taken from the home of H. P. Pitts, 5229 Bond street. Jewelry valued at $150 was taken from the place. When arrested, Anderson gave the name of Davis William Roberts.

FIRE DAMAGES FLAT.

A small room in the flat at 529 Alice street called out the fire department this morning shortly before noon. The fire was extinguished by the chemical engine and the damage was slight. The flat is occupied by the family of J. J. Trammell.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

USE ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo periodic attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-Kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-Kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack, shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-Kamnia Tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all pain.

During the 2 to 3 o'clock session, the speaker of the day, Dr. Margaret Schallenberg, State Commissioner of Education, will deliver an address.

The mushroom first made its appearance a year ago this week, which was the anniversary of the death of the couple. It grew in a decayed portion of the tree, and is of a species little known in this section.

Mr. Butler found the mushrooms and brought them home. Both partook of them, and within a couple of days Mrs. Butler was dead. Her husband lived a day or two longer.

A year after neighbors were surprised to find growing in the tree a beautiful mushroom of the species which caused the death of the Butlers. Now a year later the mushroom has appeared again, springing up just two years from the date of the death of the couple.

Mrs. Cora Webber, accused of burglary, was released today on her own recognizance by Judge George Samuels that she might care for her 18-month-old child. The baby has been carried to its mother in the city prison to be fed several times a day since she was incarcerated. As she was unable to furnish bonds, Judge Samuels ordered her release.

Mrs. Webber, her husband, William Webber, and her son, Fred Kohlman, were arraigned today on burglary charges and the cases were continued to November 2 for examination. They were represented by Attorney Abe Leach. The order releasing Mrs. Webber was made at the request of Miss Beatrice McCall of the Women's Protective Bureau.

THEFT OF FUR PLANNED AND FOILED

The plate glass window smasher last night by breaking the glass door of the J. Hertzberg furrier store, 1510 Clay street. The man used a piece of cement wrapped in a large handkerchief and smashed the big plate glass window in the doorway with the intent to steal some valuable furs in the place. The burglar was apparently frightened away by passersby. Patrolman Berner noticed that the window had been broken when he passed the door shortly after midnight. He notified the Central station and Captain Charles Book, with a posse of police, scoured the business district but failed to capture the burglar.

The handkerchief and piece of cement used by the man were found in the doorway.

It is believed by the police that this is the same burglar who two nights ago smashed the plate glass window in front of A. Gerson's jewelry store, at Twelfth and Washington streets, and who Sunday night smashed the window of the Manheim & Major women's furnishing store on Fourteenth street. Efforts will be redoubled in the business district to effect the capture of the window burglar in case he should make another attempt.

Two women were frightened in their homes in the Vernon Heights residence district last night by burglars who made unsuccessful attempts to enter. Mrs. J. F. Hunt, 505 Vernon street, heard a rapping at the window of her home and screamed for help. The man ran away. Some time later a similar attempt was made at the home of Mrs. E. Farrell, 164 Santa Clara avenue, but the noise was heard and the man fled.

Chinese, Accused, Attempts Suicide

Gee Mo, the Chinese cook yesterday charged with murder following the death of Wu Que, a Chinese woman he attacked with a dirk in a room at 275 Eighth street several nights ago, attempted to hang himself in his cell in the city prison early this morning. Jailor W. H. Smith had noticed that the prisoner seemed to be brooding since he had heard that his victim had died and made his rounds frequently during the night to forestall any attempt at suicide. Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning Smith found Gee Mo hanging from the electric light fixture in his cell by an improvised noose made from his underclothing, knotted together. He cut the man down and quickly revived him. The Chinese had suffered no injury, as he had been hanging but a few seconds when he was discovered.

The police believe that Gee Mo is insane. He told a rambling story of being haunted by a dead sweetheart when he was placed under arrest, but the officers believe that this may be an opium dream.

Official Fights U. S. for New Successor

COLTON, Utah, Oct. 24.—Lyman H. Marble, merchant and postmaster here, has retained an attorney in an endeavor to be released from his official position. His term expired more than a year ago but the government has failed to appoint a successor or to release him or his bondsman. The increase in mail matter since the parcel post was established has caused him serious losses, Marble says, and he has been compelled to place his own goods outside his store to make room inside for mail matter.

RAIL FRACTURES ANKLE.
While working for the Oakland Traction company on Twenty-third avenue late yesterday afternoon, Selva Case, a laborer of 327 Fifth street, had a rail dropped on his leg and sustained a probable fracture of the left ankle. He was removed to the emergency hospital, where the injured member was set and dressed by Dr. W. H. Irwin and Steward Davison.

MRS. AUSTIN JAILED Veteran Convicted; Her Plans Foiled

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Jennie Belle Austin, whose desertion of her husband and six children at Berkeley, Yolo county, and elopement to Jacksonville, Fla., with John Griffith Wilson, a Grand Army man, was responsible for both their arrests, was taken to Sacramento today by Sheriff Monroe. The woman stood by Wilson during his trial on a charge of violating the Mann White Slave Act, testified in his behalf and endeavored to shield him. Her efforts were of little avail, however, and Wilson was given 18 months at McNeil's Island, and she 18 months at the same institution for the order transferring him to the penitentiary.

Mrs. Austin is the mother of seven children. One of the three she took with her when she left her husband and made the long journey with Wilson. They might have hidden without chance of discovery at Jacksonville had not Wilson thought it safe to apply to the Pension Office to have his monthly stipend transferred to the Florida town. This was just what the government sought was waiting for and they swooped down on him.

ARREST UNEXPECTED.
Mrs. Austin, with nearly $200 in witness fees coming to her, believed she was safe until the sheriff arrived yesterday and arrested her for deserting her minor children. Things are likely to go hard with her in Yolo county, where sympathy is said to be with her husband.

Mrs. Austin received her witness fees from United States Marshal Holohan yesterday, and announced that she would return to Jacksonville to wait for Wilson.

who she said, promised to marry her when she had obtained a divorce. Then came her arrest.

"Don't worry, John," was her parting cheer to her imprisoned affinity. "They can't keep us apart. I will be married and happy soon. I never will go back to my husband. He can have the five children. We will keep the baby."

According to the testimony adduced at the trial of Wilson, he and Mrs. Austin eloped from Sacramento on June 2 last after she had withdrawn $1000 from the bank, the entire savings of herself and husband since their marriage, 22 years ago. The fleeing couple took with them Mrs. Austin's baby boy Jack, aged 2.

The court, when arrested in Jacksonville a month ago, were conducting a grocery. Mrs. Austin left her baby in the southern city when she was arrested with Wilson as a detained witness. She had planned to return to continue the grocery business in Jacksonville and await Wilson's freedom.

Mrs. Austin testified at Wilson's trial that he did not induce her to desert her home and children; that she bore his train without his knowledge; that she paid her own expenses on the trip and that she fled to escape a brutal husband. She declared that she loved Wilson and hated her husband; and that she intended to obtain a divorce from the latter and marry the former, whom she met only a few weeks before the elopement at a theater in Sacramento.

Wilson formerly was proprietor of the St. George Employment Agency in Sacramento.

CLASH OVER BLACKMAIL TESTIMONY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Marie Brown Levy Van Houston, star witness in the case of the late Attorney W. H. Stevens and Charles S. McKelvey, who are charged with having used the mails in furtherance of an alleged conspiracy to blackmail a coterie of rich men, went on the witness stand in Judge Olin Walworth's court yesterday and practically repeated the testimony she gave at their former trial, which resulted in a jury disagreement.

A sharp clash between Attorney W. O. Morton and Assistant United States District Attorney Delbert Stone featured the testimony. Attorney Morton, objected to the witness stating that she had consented to Stevens bringing suit against George H. Bixby, Octavius Morgan, Judge W. H. Evans, Wat Moreland and William La Casse, a Fresno capitalist, who, she alleged, were visitors at the Jougou apartments, while she was living there.

When the young woman began telling of the alleged settlements effected by Stevens, Attorney Morton objected. "Store isn't acting in good faith," shouted Morton.

JUDGE SETTLES TILT.

A lively colloquy followed, which was stopped by Judge Walworth, who ordered counsel for the defense to refrain from further such characterizations. "You knew Stevens was going to sue each of these men for $50,000, didn't you?" demanded Attorney Morton.

"Yes—he told my mother he could get money from them by beginning suits," she said they wouldn't dare let the cases go to trial," the witness answered. "Did you expect to get $50,000 from each?"

"Oh, no; I know you always sue for more damages than you expect to collect," the answer brought smiles from the jurymen.

"Did you know that Stevens had settled two of these cases for $2500?" asked Stone.

"No," he said he got $1000; he gave us $1000 and the rest was the rest of the suit he wouldn't even take attorney's fees," he was not until the Bixby trial that we knew he had got $1500 more in each of the suits that were settled."

The government practically gave up hope yesterday of being able to produce Cleo Helen Barker, another woman wanted witness who is now said to be in Mexico, and who has refused to return to testify. Octavius Morgan, well-known architect, will be called to the witness stand today and for the first time his version of the famous scandal in connection with the Jougou apartments will be aired.

Thrown and Injured As Car Jumps Track

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—More than a score of men, women and children were thrown from their seats and two women were painfully hurt when a cable car of the Powell-street line jumped the track on the steep grade between Pine and Bush streets, at 10 o'clock this morning. Those injured were:

MRS. MARIETTA MUSEMECI, a nurse, of 2319 Mason street, bruises, arms and sprained wrist; "Mike" retired, a widower, of 279 Francisco street, injured right arm, abrasions of face.

Mrs. Musumeci, Mrs. Bianchi and two children who were with them were pitched to the street. On the inside of the car nearly everyone was thrown to the floor, but fortunately none were hurt. The motorman, applying his brakes, managed to bring the car to a stop at Bush street before reaching the second hill.

No Gum; No Slang; Is Edict of Educators

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—As a result of a teachers' meeting held at the high school yesterday afternoon there is to be an energetic campaign against the chewing of gum and the use of slang.

The pupils will be cautioned against the use of gum and will be cautioned to use good English.

Freight Rate Hearing Case May End Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Hearings on the application of the Eastern railroads for a general increase in freight rates of at least 5 per cent were continued before the Interstate Commerce Commission today, with the prospect that the case of the carriers would be completed before the day's session ended.

Plans for the shippers have not been announced, but it is understood they will present little testimony, depending almost entirely upon arguments to refute the claims of the railroads.

PIONEER MOTHERS' DAY'S TOMORROW

Native Daughters of the State to Sell Carnations for Statue Fund.

Tomorrow in California will be Pioneer Mothers' Day and in every part of the state white carnations will be sold for the benefit of the statue fund. The fund is for the erection of a statue to the women of the Pioneer Mothers' Day. This is the formal proclamation of the Governor.

Edram W. Johnson, Governor of California, do hereby designate Saturday, the 24th day of October, as Pioneer Mothers' Day, to be observed as a tribute to the women of the state. This is the formal proclamation of the Governor.

It is proposed to raise a fund of $25,000 for this very worthy project, and I wish to join in asking a generous response from all California. In order that the sum may be made adequate. The monument, which is to be one of the most striking features of contemporary sculpture at the fair, will be thereafter a possession of the state. It is the work of Charles Grafely, a sculptor of wide renown, and the expression of the work of building a monument which shall grace the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The expression of the work of building a monument which shall grace the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The expression of the work of building a monument which shall grace the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

HEROIC FIGURES.
The statue represents three figures in bronze, a mother and two children, and one-half times life size, and four bas-reliefs of western life inserted in the pedestal. According to those who have seen the work, the expression of the group is indescribably touching and inspiring.

It will be the first statue to the mothers of the nation that has ever been erected in all this country. In New Orleans stands a statue of the little baker woman who baked bread and gave it to the poor. Portland, Oregon, is proud of a statue of the little squaw who, her papoose on her back, led the Lewis and Clark expedition westward.

But the Pioneer Mother monument will be the first tribute to the courage and endurance that faced the arrows of the Indians, the hardships of an unsettled, strange land, to people the west. When Eastern tourists see that statue at the fair next year they will see the history of the state epitomized in eternal bronze.

Tomorrow the Native Daughters of the Golden West will take charge of the work in every town where there is a parlor. In Oakland carnations will be sold at booths throughout the city, and every public spirited man, woman and child will wear a white flower.

The Native Daughters will be assisted in the campaign by members of the Alameda County Woman's Fair Auxiliary.

KELLY TO BE GUEST.
The Young Men's Progressive Club of the annexed district held their weekly meeting Wednesday night, October 21, and arranged for their grand ball and rally on Saturday, October 31, at Melrose Central Hall, Forty-eighth avenue and East Fourteenth street. M. J. Kelly, county treasurer, is the invited guest of the evening.

KNOWLAND UNHURT IN AUTO WRECK

Senatorial Candidate and His Wife Escape as by Miracle.

"They can't sidetrack me," remarked Congressman Joseph R. Knowland yesterday, following an almost miraculous escape from the wreck of his car and Mrs. Knowland, when the touring car in which they were riding skidded on a sharp turn near San Jose, jumped in a ditch and finally came to a stop in an orchard 200 feet away.

Fearing that the couple had met serious injury the party of Captain John D. Fredericks, in a second machine, hurried up, only to see the Congressman assist his wife from the machine, and laughingly reassure her. Mrs. Knowland was badly shaken but uninjured.

The Congressman and his wife, with Captain Fredericks and party, were riding from Mountain View to Santa Clara, where Knowland and Fredericks were scheduled to speak. They had rounded a sharp turn in the San Jose road when the Knowland machine, skidding, plunged from its tracks. The Fredericks party, behind, picked the Congressman and his wife up, their machine being damaged by the mishap.

"I was a little bit frightened," admitted Mrs. Knowland, "but it's all over now."

Mrs. Knowland, last night, after a rest, laughed at the incident. According to members of the Fredericks party it is remarkable that the couple escaped from the machine alive. The auto was directly in the path of a telephone pole when it skidded, and only missed by a fraction of an inch. Several fruit trees were within arm's reach of the machine when it finally came to a stop.

Horse Wins Right of Way From Cyclists

VALLEJO, Oct. 23.—The best-laid schemes of horses and motorcyclists were knocked into smithereens here yesterday, together with the motor cycle, two riders and a couple of horse shoes, all because "Mike," the big farm stallion of M. Carboro, wouldn't get out of the way when a motorcycle horn blew. Instead, he kicked with such mathematical precision that two motorcyclists tumbled, breaking the handlebars and "Mike" retired, a wiser and more gleeful equine.

The riders, Manuel Vincent and V. Cardeza, and the motorcycle all came to Vallejo for repairs.

The men were riding along a road to this town when they observed several horses walking ahead of them. Thinking to frighten the animals from their path they blew the horn. Mike didn't budge, but kicked when the machine drew near. Both men were hurled over the handlebars to the ground and the machine was badly wrecked. The horse lost two rear shoes as the result of his defense. The owner of the animal added insult to injury by demanding payment from the motorcyclists for reshoeing the horse.

Prefers Grape Juice Policy to Grape Shot

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—The grape juice diplomacy of the administration at Washington is far preferable to the grape-shot diplomacy of Europe. This statement was made by W. B. Wilson, secretary of labor in President Wilson's cabinet, in an address here last night when opening a three-day campaign on behalf of Democratic Congressional candidates from Missouri.

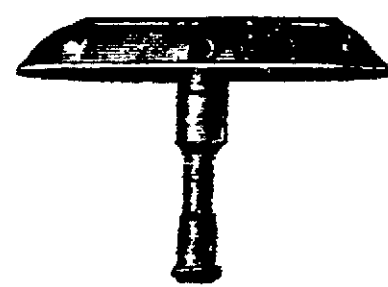

"NOT LOADED" WOUNDED.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Good luck stood by Lonnie Burnett, a bartender of 1019 Stockton street, this morning, when he was accidentally shot by his friend and chum, William Wilson of 1116 Stockton street. The bullet entered his neck. Had it gone a quarter of an inch to the right it would have severed the jugular vein and his life would have been forfeited. Wilson was in the act of unloading the gun when it was discharged, striking Burnett. The latter went to the Central Emergency hospital and the surgeon notified the police. An investigation by Detective Lemon convinced him that the affair was accidental as stated by the principal.

$10,000,000 Key System Hearing Postponed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The hearing on the application of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway for permission to issue a total of $10,000,000 in bonds has been continued until Thursday, November 5. The matter was to have come up before Commissioner Eshleman next Monday, but at the request of the railroad a postponement was granted this morning.

The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway hopes to be able to obtain a $5,000,000 bond issue as the result of their application to satisfy certain obligations and to make necessary improvements and extensions pending the purchase of the line by Charles G. Moore. The latter, by reason of the European war, has not been able to consummate the deal, and just what steps will be taken in view of that fact have so far not been revealed.

CHINESE PUPILS SING IN TWO LANGUAGES

In the repertoire of songs now being sung by the Chinese boys and girls of the Baptist mission school are a number of patriotic selections. The children are singing in English. Their latest song is "I Love You, California," which they sing with spirit and enthusiasm. Despite the fact that they are not Californians, Miss Jennie Egli, who is the instructor in the school, is training the children in their vocal work. They are also learning the Chinese and the English language. Recently Miss Egli conferred with the playground superintendent regarding the opening of a playground for the Chinese youngsters who, at present, have no recreation center. Miss Egli is determined to establish a playground for the Chinese children.

FAMED INDIAN FIGHTER SUMMONED BY DEATH

REDDING, Oct. 23.—Joseph S. Gilbert, pioneer of Oregon and California, died at the home of his only daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lorenz. He was born in Kentucky 84 years ago, went to Oregon in 1852 and to Del Norte County, this state, a few years later. For years he owned a farm in the northwestern corner of the state bounded on the north by Oregon and on the west by the Pacific ocean. In 1878 he moved to Santa Cruz and made his residence there until a few years ago, when he came to Redding to live with his daughter. Gilbert was a celebrated Indian fighter in the early days. He followed mining, a good deal, but farming was his mainstay. Burial will be made in Santa Cruz.

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 23.—According to Naval Constructor H. Van Kough, U. S. N., the submarines K-7 and K-8 will arrive here from the Union Iron Works, at San Francisco, as soon as the Navy Department approves the report of the naval trial board. The machinery department officers at Mare Island are planning to install the new submarine in the harbor, while she remains on the ways this winter.

The repair ship Prometheus is to be sent to Mare Island. The vessel will be in commission in the near future.

OLD SHIP FLOATED.

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 23.—Mare Island officers are congratulating themselves today over the fact that they were able to float the old wrecked ship Independence at high tide last night, and from all accounts there is not much danger of the former guard going to the bottom again as long as her pumps are kept in constant operation.

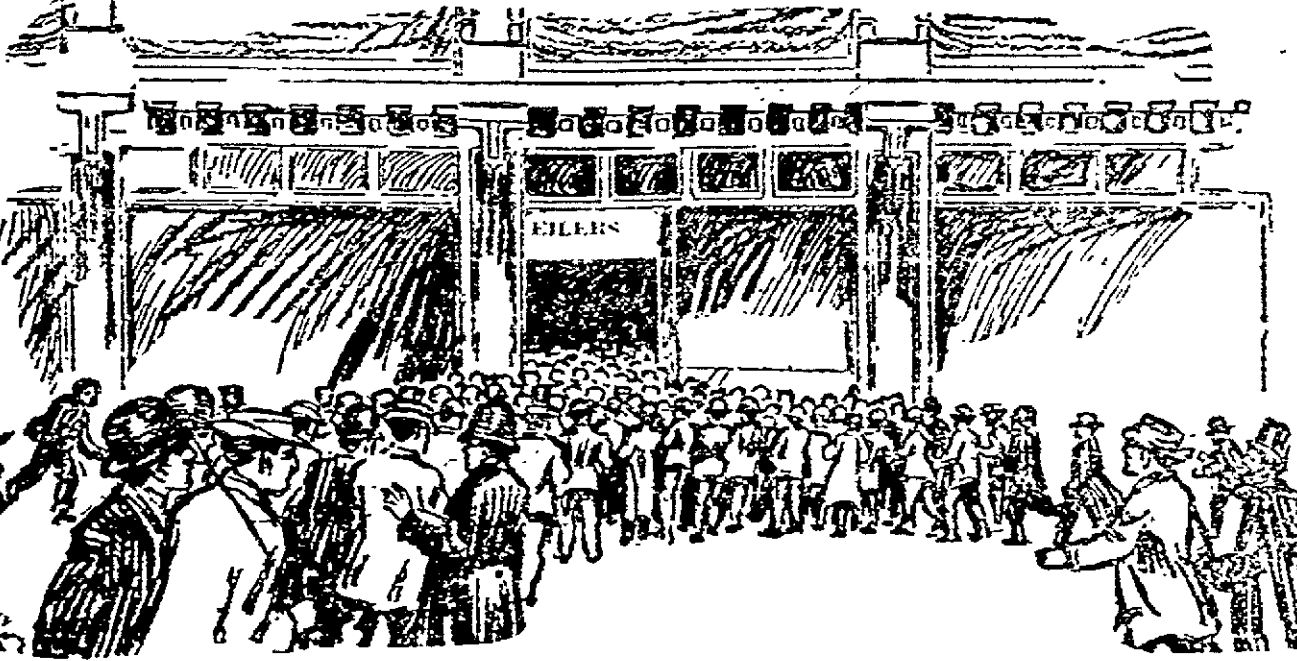

CAN LOWER COST.

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 23.—It is estimated on good authority that the Navy Department can save at the way from $30,000 to $35,000 if it will allow Mare Island to construct two of the new torpedo boat destroyers recently authorized by Congress.

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 23.—Mare Island will dock the planter Arcturion at the local naval station early next month as a result of putting in the lowest bid for planing the hull of the vessel in first-class shape.

WILL SEEK TO ENJOIN SPRING VALLEY COMPANY

Suits to prevent the Spring Valley Water Company from draining the water sources of Alameda creek in the lower end of the county are soon to be filed in the Superior Court by attorneys for the Alameda County Water District, which was formed a year ago. At a recent meeting of the directors to take steps against the water company that the respective rights of the competing bodies may be definitely determined. Coincident with the contemplated proceedings it is declared in San Francisco that in event of the Spring Valley Water Company being restrained from utilizing a portion of its present supply in this county, its resources will be considerably crippled and that instead of being able to supply the city across the bay with increased measure the present supply will be diminished. This has been brought out in the contemplated purchase of the water company's holdings by the city and has been used as one of the arguments against the purchase.

CANAL INCREASES PORT SHIPPING

Export of California Products to Europe and Eastern States Grows.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The formal opening of the Panama Canal to general traffic, on September 1, has brought about a marked increase in the shipments of California products to Europe and the eastern states reaching quantities and securing prices previously unobtainable. Since the inception of the canal, the shipping of California products has increased. It is stated by the exporters that had California not participated in this rush, the shippers in San Francisco could have been unable to meet the demand. This is in addition to thousands of tons of other merchandise and was shipped to New York alone.

SPACE AT PREMIUM.
Local shippers say that in all the history of San Francisco's exportations there has never been such a demand for space on outgoing steamers. Space is at a premium, and the incoming line from up the coast have been taxed to full capacity in order to meet the demand of this port. The demand of the Oriental companies, made possible by the war, is as well as that of the ports in the south Pacific ocean, has not as yet been met. Since September 1, no less than 25 steamers have cleared for Atlantic ports.

SORE ERUPTION ALL OVER CHILD'S BODY

Started with Blisters. Itched So Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Three Weeks Was All Healed.

Route No. 2, Box 67, Little Falls, Minn.
—Our little boy was taken sick with a fever and after the fever he broke out with a sore eruption all over his body. We could get nothing to help him. The sores were large and red and bleeding. The doctor said with blisters as if he were burned and when they broke they would bleed and they itched so that he could not sleep for some time. We had him all tied up with bandages and then we had to soak them off every day.

We bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which soon gave him relief. We used the Cuticura Soap to wash him with and used the Ointment afterwards and in about two weeks he was able to sit up. Now he is as well as can be for in three weeks he was all healed by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (Signed) George Wolters, Jan. 29, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail

SPEEDERS GIVEN BITTER MEDICINE

Heavy Fines Imposed in Centerville Without Favor or Discrimination.

CENTERVILLE, Oct. 22.—"You people need not imagine that having your influential friends write me letters is going to help any. I don't care how many friends you have, you'll get equal treatment—and that'll be a fine of $25. If heavy fines won't cure this speeding trouble, I'll take other measures."

Before the canal was open to the trade of the world, three steamship companies ran a sort of insular trade between New York and New York. They were not less than eight companies, and all are clamoring for more ships, as they are unable to move more than the bulk of their cargo. A steamer leaves this port for the eastern side of the United States on an average of every two days.

HAYWARD, Oct. 22.—George Meininger, a local business man, and his bride, Miss Edith Broder of Oakland, succeeded in their claim to be able to "put one over" on their friends by getting quietly married in their new home here Tuesday evening. Meininger's absence from his business, which he away on his honeymoon, was the first indication his friends had that they had been hoodwinked.

That the wedding was to take place soon was well known, but the couple refused to give out the exact date. Their friends were kept in the dark until the wedding of the couple was announced. The wedding was performed without anyone being the wiser. Mr. and Mrs. Eschensen were the only friends present at the wedding, at which Rev. H. D. Naylor of the Congregational church officiated. The bride is the daughter of a wealthy rancher of Colson, and has many friends in the bay cities. She lived with a sister in Oakland.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 18, 1914.
An appeal to the members of the St. Andrew's Society of Oakland.
A national fund has been started by the Prince of Wales to alleviate the distress caused by the war to families of soldiers and sailors in Great Britain and Ireland.
An American branch has been formed in New York and we are in receipt of a letter from the St. Andrew's Society of New York requesting direct contributions to the fund.
The intense suffering and distress caused by this frightful and murderous war to those "dear able to hear it" in the motherland must be relieved and we feel that as a Scotch society we are bound to do our part.
This society, therefore, following the action taken by the St. Andrew's society of New York, has decided to forego its annual banquet with the understanding that each member contribute the amount of $1.00 to the fund.
These changes are made possible with the extension in operation of the Eighteenth street line trains over the elevated tracks at Sixteenth street depot through to Oakland Mole, thus doing away with the transfer now necessary at the depot.

Catarrh Leads To Consumption

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scurvy or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It causes weakness and emaciation, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the voice, deranges the digestion, and weakens the delicate lung tissues and leads to consumption.
Hood's Sarsaparilla acts to the seat of the trouble, purifies the blood, and is so successful that it is known as the best remedy for catarrh.
Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens and tones the whole system. It builds up the motherland must be relieved and we feel that as a Scotch society we are bound to do our part.
This society, therefore, following the action taken by the St. Andrew's society of New York, has decided to forego its annual banquet with the understanding that each member contribute the amount of $1.00 to the fund.

BERKELEY Gossip of Students and Residents in University Town and Social and Personal Happenings of Day in the Island City

ARCHBISHOP IS GUEST OF CLUB

Father Riordan Honored by Organization Which He Assisted.

BERKELEY, Oct. 23. — More than 20 guests attended a reception at the Berkeley club, tendered by the Catholic students and alumni of the University of California. The reverend guest of honor was assisted in receiving by representatives of the regents and faculty and by officers of the club. Music for the afternoon was furnished by a string quartet.

Archbishop Riordan visited the campus today after an enforced absence of two years. His visit was the result of a home coming in the appreciation of the guests at the reception, who have always looked up to him as the real father of the club. Through his efforts in 1912 the Newman club came to have a chapel and lecture hall, the present residence of the chaplain.

Two Paulist fathers were then summoned from New York to take charge of the student work. Three years later the cornerstone of the present Newman hall was laid. Although Archbishop Riordan has been in touch with Catholic work in this community for the past 16 years, he has been unable until today to see the results of his recent efforts, due to other duties.

HEARD WAR DECLARED TELLS THRILLING STORY

Woman's Companion Is Held for Espionage in Europe

From Europe, Mrs. A. Sellmer of 2224 Fourth street, tells a thrilling story of the world conflict from the German point of view. She had gone over last April and was staying with her parents in Berlin when the proclamation of war was made.

"I heard the speech of the Kaiser—all the big speeches. The people were so excited. No one stayed in the houses. All night they walked in the streets—Unger den Lunden—talking."

There were 25,000 Americans in Berlin when the trouble came. They stayed in the American Ambassador and held a mass meeting—but no one could get a steamer from Hamburg to Bremerhaven. They had to go to Holland. Holland was full of Belgians, too," she remarked.

She witnessed the mobilization of the troops. "They had just a few hours," she said. "It was so queer to see them in new, gray suits. The German soldier usually wears a blue uniform."

After the first mobilization more men kept going to join the others. It seemed as though they would never stop leaving. All day the wounded began to be brought back by the carload to the cities. Mrs. Sellmer talked to the men in the hospitals. Among them was a young Russian who told her in hospital that he had been within 25 kilometers of Paris. He told her that there were 200,000 men thick with dead men that he could not ride his horse.

TALES OF ATROCITIES

She heard wild tales of atrocities committed by the soldier of other races. A wounded Frenchman told her the men of lower France treated the women of Belgium as they pleased. "My mother says that she and the women would poison their food if the Germans were to come into our territory," my mother says that she and the women would poison their food if the Germans were to come into our territory."

She defended Germany against the sentiment which existed against that country. The German people offered the hospital to the wounded. "I do not believe that the Kaiser wanted the war. They feared that the Socialist party might make trouble, but all have united."

ROOMING HOUSES IN ALAMEDA BEING LISTED

ALAMEDA, Oct. 23. — The division of exploitation of the Panama-Pacific International exposition of which George Hough, Esq., is director, has written to the Alameda Chamber of Commerce requesting the chamber to furnish the bureau with a list of rooming houses and apartments in Alameda. SETTLERS GIVEN MANY POINTERS

University Issues Free Publication on Farming for the Newcomer to State.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 23. — The "Newcomer to the State," a free publication of the college of agriculture, tells what it costs to settle in the new state, and gives a complete list of pointers to get a reasonable living, how much yield of each of the standard crops of California may be on the average is expected, and how large an acreage is on the average needed to support a family from each of the various types of California agriculture.

Dean Thomas P. Hunt and the best of the state's agricultural experts have combined in this publication their experience, knowledge, and judgment.

A man who can grow only the "average" crop is here warned that, generally speaking, he will do better working for a daily wage for others.

On the subject of raising crops, it is advised not to figure on raising more than two-thirds of the maximum yield possible in the neighborhood in which he is to settle.

So, for example, the average yield of barley in California is here stated as 40 bushels per acre. A newcomer is advised that he should not expect to raise more than 25 bushels per acre. But a safe basis for figuring, for business purposes, would be 20 bushels per acre.

ALL STANDARD CROPS.

For potatoes, 120 bushels is stated as an average. For alfalfa, 10 tons is a safe estimate; for Muscat raisins the figures given are half a ton, a ton, and three-quarters of a ton, and for butterfat per cow per annum, 100 pounds, 200 pounds, and 300 pounds, for alfalfa, 5 tons, 10 tons and 15 tons, for corn, 100 bushels, 200 bushels and 300 bushels.

How large must a farm be to furnish a satisfactory living? It is one must decide for himself, but to earn a gross income of $4000 a year, the acreage required is here stated as 100 acres, for a family of four, 200 acres, for a family of six, 300 acres, and for a family of eight, 400 acres.

Children are a material asset to the farmer, here declares Dean Hunt. Their labor is a valuable asset to the family income but "because this training in contributing to the family income is one of the most valuable assets these children can acquire."

SOME WARNINGS SOUNDED.

Here are some of the warnings to the settler, as given by the University of California:

"Don't figure too high on prospective yield."

"Don't figure too low as to the amount of land you'll need."

"Be sure to make a satisfactory living at dairying on 20 acres."

"In selecting land be sure the soil is deep and well drained."

"Land and soil go along with lack of proper drainage."

"Consult the university and United States Geological Survey before settling."

"Remember that the sale of land for purposes for which it is not adapted has caused great losses and great misery. Be sure the land is suited to the crop to be grown."

"Watch out that the land title is secure."

"And in buying land remember that no law can furnish men with judgment."

"Probably nothing can make a man secure in a risky land save experience," says Dean Hunt.

A striking statement is that the average settler in California has 20 acres of land, and that the average value is $15.47. Yet three-fifths of the farm land in California is held in tracts of 1000 acres or more.

After discussing climate, soils, irrigation, farm labor problems, "how to start," and the affairs of the man who rents land, the publication concludes with a special discussion of each of the standard crops of California, written by a special authority in that special field. These tell of where to see the particular industry to best advantage, objections to the crop, things to avoid, and the use of methods of cultivation, marketing conditions, land and rental values, etc.

The crops thus specially discussed are alfalfa, apples, apricots, avocados, beans, peaches, grapes, olives, onions, pears, prunes, potatoes, sentimental fruits, sugar beets, and walnuts.

This publication, which promises to be of inestimable value to those who want to make their home in the open country in California, can be had for the asking by writing to the University of California at Berkeley.

OAKLAND PLAN IS URGED IN SOUTH

Los Angeles Council and Business Men to Support Amendment.

Oakland's plan for cooperation in the fight to carry the Oakland amendment was urged today in Los Angeles before the city council and chamber of commerce of that city when the delegation of Oakland business and professional men, who left this city last night on the Oaklander, returned to their homes. They will go on to San Diego, where again they will urge the passage of the east bay region.

The plan was marked the beginning of the big campaign of the anti-amendment campaign, committee, fighting for Amendment No. 15 which, while permitting San Francisco to expand down the coast, also carries out its expansion plan, will prevent annexation of Los Angeles and San Francisco and the east bay region.

The first of these meetings was held yesterday afternoon at the Mothers' Club of the Fremont High School was addressed by I. H. Clay. More than one hundred members of the club were in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. L. C. Grazer, one of the most tireless workers in behalf of the Oaklander.

Rank Butter Sent to Troops in Vera Cruz
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—An interior brand of butter, described as unfit to eat, but bearing the guarantee of the National Mercantile Exchange that it was the best quality, was shipped last June to Vera Cruz for the use of the United States troops, according to testimony adduced today at the inquiry instituted by State's Attorney General Parsons to determine if a butter, egg and cheese monopoly exists in this city.

ARRIVES SAFELY AFTER AROUSING GREAT FEARS

Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, president of the Home Club, who it was feared for a time, was lost in the sinking of one of the big liners destroyed in the North Sea, will return safely to Oakland next Wednesday.

Mrs. Easterbrook was in Denmark when the war broke out and she fled for London at the time several steamers were sunk and it was feared, when no word came from her, that she had been drowned. She arrived at London, her New York letter states, and then at once booked passage for America.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR HALLOWE'EN FAIR

Preparations for the Halloween Fair on October 29-31 are filling the time of a bevy of young matrons, debutantes and the set not yet out of school, who are all interested in the success of the charity event for the Baby Hospital Association. Daily, members of the "branches" are holding meetings of busy sewing followed by the relaxation of tea.

Among the leaders of these groups are: Mrs. William Ede, Mrs. Price Cornwall, Mrs. Bernard Kinsome, Mrs. Walter J. Shockley, Mrs. Ruth Webster, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Edward Enns, Mrs. W. W. Briggs, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. W. B. Seabury, Miss Ethel Warrington, Mrs. Marion Greenwood, Miss Edith Goodfellow, Miss Marian Marks.

OAKLANDER WANTS WIFE?
George E. Mein of this city either wants a wife or is the victim of a practical joke. The story came out in letters from Bisbee, Ariz., where, when a young society girl bought a new coat she found Mein's name, address and plea for a wife in the pocket. She refused with thanks. Mein is a clerk, living at 5729 Broadway street. His name and address was in a suit packed by the firm of which he is an employee. His friends don't know whether it was a joke or not, they say.

CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE ENDS

The annual Northern California Congregational Conference, which opened last Tuesday evening in the Plymouth Congregational Church of this city, was brought to a close at noon today. The next place of meeting was not determined by the conference, but it will be decided by the Board of Trustees of the conference in the near future. The invitations extended by the San Francisco delegation to conduct their 1935 conference in San Francisco and also that of Mr. and Mrs. Curry to meet in annual session at Camp Curry in the Yosemite Valley, was referred to the trustees for action. Next year the Pacific Coast Congregational Congress will be held in San Francisco and the board of trustees is now considering the advisability of conducting the conference and also the conference at the same time and place.

Delegates and alternates to the national conference of the Northern California Congregational Church, which was held in New Haven, Conn., in 1935, were elected this morning as follows: Rev. W. W. Ferrier, editor of the Pacific, the official journal of the Congregational church, and Rev. A. B. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational church of Sacramento; alternate, Arthur Arlett of Oakland; Rev. H. H. Wicks, secretary of the church building society of the Pacific Coast.

The new members of the board of trustees of the Northern California Congregational Conference was selected yesterday afternoon. They are Rev. Roscoe Douglas of Ferndale; Rev. T. T. Giffen of San Francisco; Rev. C. H. Meers, moderator of the 1935 session, president of the board; L. L. Morse of San Francisco, W. H. Butterfield of Sacramento; W. L. Sales of Petaluma; Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, and L. H. Morse of San Francisco, treasurer of the conference. Rev. Roscoe Douglas was chosen preacher of the 1935 conference.

The following committees were named:

NEW HEALTH ORDINANCE.
BERKELEY, Oct. 23.—Storekeepers and others who have been able to send to other cities produce condemned by the local health department had a quietus put on their scheme this morning by the council in a new health ordinance, which was adopted. This gave the health department the power not only to condemn produce unfit for consumption, but to destroy it as well, the latter being a power not previously held.

AFFINITIES TOO MANY, SHE SAYS

Alleging that her husband had too many affinities to take the proper care of his wife and child, Mrs. Mary V. Newsom yesterday obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce in Judge Donahue's court from Sidney B. Newsom, a well-known Oakland architect. She testified that on several occasions she had confronted him when in the presence of other women and that he only repudiated her. Mrs. Newsom obtained the custody of their child and a share in the community property. They had been married since June, 1900.

Complaining that his wife was in the habit of constantly nagging him and that she was altogether too free with her gentlemen friends, E. J. Fitzgibbon filed suit in the Superior Court for a divorce from Eleanor Fitzgibbon. He also alleged in his complaint that she frequently came to his place of business and amused herself by accusing his employees of stealing what she had taken herself and thus disrupted the business of her husband.

G. W. Wadsworth feels that when his wife adds to her many cruelties by putting salt in his coffee it is time to sue for divorce and he has filed a complaint in the Superior Court. He also asks for the custody of his son, Gerald, toward whom, he claims, his wife has taken a dislike and frequently threatened to beat, although the boy is of very delicate health.

Interlocutory decrees of divorce were granted yesterday to Nina Welch, who charged her husband James R. Welch, with desertion; Louise McTernan secured a similar decree on the ground of neglect, and Alameda La Rue was granted an interlocutory decree by reason of the continued intemperance of Samuel La Rue.

Quake Accompanies Mt. Lassen Eruption

REDDING, Oct. 23.—A slight tremor of the earth, hardly worth the name of a quake, was felt today at Manzanilla Lake at the base of Lassen Peak during the 58th eruption of the volcano. All three craters were active and the column of ascending steam and ashes rose 10,000 feet.

JAIL BABY AND PARENTS ELDEST SON IS ALSO HELD

Up the little police elevator a woman and little child were taken to the city prison, early yesterday. Waked up suddenly in the middle of the night by the police, and arrested on a charge of burglary, Mrs. Weber, her husband and eldest son are now in jail. And a little child came with her. For what else could they do? An adorable baby of 18 months, and great blue eyes and the smile of a mischievous cherub.

And this morning he sat quietly in the matron's lap, jingling the prison keys, while his mother was away, upstairs, being photographed and having Bertillon measurements taken.

It was a long time before she came. The baby grew restless, and when she finally got out of his great blue eyes and frowned when the matron caressed him. "I want my mudder," he said sullenly, at last. "Where my mudder gone to?"

They quieted him as best they could, and gave him more keys to play with, and the matron crushed his little gold head to her heart, and crooned some half-forgotten lullaby.

Then from outside came a patter of tiny feet and through the door a crowd of children came trooping, with a young and very pretty girl in their midst.

For Mrs. Weber has six children. The eldest, a boy, is with the father in jail, and the girl worked as a cashier, and the four other boys range from 8 years to the baby of 18 months, who went with his mother to prison.

SAD REUNION

And they came in, curiosity writ large on their glowing faces, for a jollier lot of youngsters would be hard to find. And the joy of the small brother at their coming! His little face glowed, his chubby mouth opened wide with pleasure, as he scrambled excitedly off the matron's lap and toddled over to meet them.

Only the girl and the boy of 8 seemed to sense the tragedy of the situation.

"I've given up my job," she said. "I couldn't go there again after this."

And the boy, too, stood over near the door and watched his younger brothers with solemn eyes.

At last the door opened and the mother came—with her picture taken, her measurements and thumb-prints known.

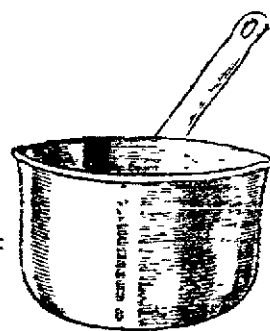

The tears welled up in her eyes. Her hair hung about her great cheeks. She tried to speak, but the words choked in her throat.

"There's no use of my saying anything," she sobbed. Nobody'll believe what I say. I didn't take anything but what was given me," and she collapsed, half fainting on the bed.

They gave her water to drink and bathed her face, while the two little boys looked on with big scared eyes, and the baby turned to the matron again and jingled her keys.

WILSON'S PEACE POLICY PRAISED

English Editor Believes President Will Act Justly Toward Nations.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—"Evidently an impression exists in the United States," says the Morning Post, in an editorial today, "that there has been criticism in the British press of President Wilson's position regarding peace. This impression was fostered by undue importance attached to certain American newspaper utterances."

"During the Civil war our position toward the United States was the same as the United States holds toward Europe today. We desired to see the differences of the North and South composed for ethical as well as material reasons. Then, as now, cotton was the cause of our anxiety. We wanted cotton and could not obtain it. Today the United States has cotton but cannot sell it."

CAUSE OF MEDIATION

"All this, perhaps, explains the movement in the United States in favor of mediation—a movement which is doubt encouraged by our enemies. But the machinations of our enemies and the schemes of others who would turn the altar into a huckster's stall, are well understood by President Wilson. We are told, and there is no fear that the President will walk into the trap."

"President Wilson has shown himself singularly well balanced, restrained and judicious. He has been courageous enough to do an unpopular thing because he believed it right, as his demand for the repeal of the Panama tolls law showed. He dared challenge public opinion and displayed patience and wisdom in the settlement of the Mexican problem, and we feel certain that President Wilson will do nothing that is not prompted by the highest sense of justice."

MOUNTAINEER CONGRATULATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—President Wilson yesterday congratulated J. F. Duckworth, a North Carolina mountaineer, on having been the father of twenty-five children and having voted the Democratic ticket for sixty-five years. Duckworth, who had never seen a president before, was introduced by Senator Overman. He told the president he had nineteen Democratic votes in his family.

ACCUSED OF MURDER

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 22.—Robert F. Brooks, wanted at Geddes, S. D., on a charge of having murdered William Minnie, a businessman of that place, and Blanche Signal, his stenographer, were arrested last night at Wynora. Minnie and his stenographer were found dead in an elevator office April 6 last. An attempt had been made to burn the building. Brooks is charged with having threatened Minnie.

SALT IN HIS COFFEE REASON FOR DIVORCE

Alleging that his wife was guilty of extreme cruelty towards himself and their two children, and that on one occasion she put salt in his coffee, G. W. Wadsworth yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court for a divorce from Birdina Wadsworth.

He further sets forth in his complaint that she frequently came to his place of business and annoyed him and his employees by boisterous, abusive language. He asks for the custody of their son, Gerald, toward whom, he asserts, she has shown a dislike and whom she frequently beats without cause.

NEW BATTERY PLAN

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 23.—It became known yesterday that Thomas A. Edison has been working for nearly two years on a special storage battery to replace the leaden ones now in use in the submarines. The present battery generators chlorinate gas when its cells become flooded with salt water, resulting in the weakening of the lungs of members of the crew and making the men easily subject to pneumonia for months later.

CHARITY BALL TO BE HELD AT HOTEL OAKLAND

The thirty-sixth grand annual charity ball of the German Ladies' Relief Society of Oakland will be held on November 19 in the Ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland.

The many patronesses of this event each year always eagerly look forward with great pleasure to its coming.

As has been the custom of the German Ladies' Relief Society, an annual ball is given near the close of each year, the proceeds of which are entirely distributed to the needy and sick of Alameda county. The work of the society is very noteworthy and worthy of great commendation. There are now about 500 active members, all of whom are constantly endeavoring to assist the needy poor.

The ball each year is a very elaborate affair and its patronesses are among the most prominent Germans in this city. The evening will be entirely in charge of ladies of the society, who will also serve the refreshments.

The officers are: President, Mrs. J. Mary; vice-president, Mrs. F. Ench; treasurer, Mrs. H. Hein; secretary, Mrs. F. Street; financial secretary, Mrs. C. F. Hesse.
